they are out.

"We're not just helping people — we are them: the people who are misunderstood. But our pain is serving a purpose, and we are using our problem and pain to create Destiny Revealed. Our mission is to help people incarcerated and previously incarcerated find, build and shape their purpose in life by providing opportunities for business and homeownership. We want to teach people how to use their pain to be a solution instead of a problem."

This young woman came to skysthelimit.org after searching for a mentor online to help her build a business around her writings and ideas. Since joining skysthelimit.org, Johnesha has worked with a couple advisors as well as a mentor named Tyrone.

"Tyrone has been a great mentor — he is very motivational and has a lot of experience in the areas I need help with for my business goals.

My goal this month is to get my business plan written out. Tyrone always tells me 'Rome wasn't built in a day,' so I just take all of that into consideration and continue to be patient with the process while continuing to progress."

>> You can read more from Johnesha on her website.

Would you like to be featured in our next newsletter? Tell us about you and your business & you could be next!*