

BEAUTY:

Beauty; as far the general concepts are concern, relates that adjective with the person bearing prominent blue eyes, underneath shadow of long lashes pretending to be guards. These eyes can disturb the confidence or can shake someone heart and also it may effect psychologically by pushing some in dark well of inferiority complex. Angle of thoughts rotates as the mind changes. Some relates beauty, Personality acquiring perfect, attractive and eyes catching body language (appearance). Significance been given to individual, having tempting facial symmetry, broad face, high forehead, small nose, short and narrow jaw, high cheekbones, full lips, smooth and nourish skin, and most considered as mentioned earlier wide skew eyes. No wonder these entire features acknowledge by man for judging, beauty of women. Aspects also been known to categories man from best to worse.

“Ideal beauty” beauty is an entity that can be admired, astonishing statement that I ever read. Beauty can also be meant “Quality or aggregates of quality is person” as in Portuguese it can be called “Desculpe” thoughts. John keats stated “A thing of beauty is a joy forever”. From many of you reading thinks these are the characteristics which define beauty to best and most appropriate level, may be some of you have that perception, may some of you have some other discipline to describe beauty, some may thoughts beauty is a spirit, loveliness, attraction toward someone just because you like his/her character, some may say it not about gender, not about appearance it’s about care, pleasure that exalts the mind or spirit, some may have its own schools of thoughts, some may say who, when, where and for what the word “Beauty” come into existence. But whatever you think and make perception, I have good news for that; all these speculations or logics are purely legitimate and true. Beauty the only content that I don’t think can ever be defined as its, Closing a sea in a coza.

Beauty can be external and internal; but beauty will be admired as long as the world is established.
