

[so right now]

#trending

This room is getting big buzz on Instagram. We're zooming in on why.

@livelywood_interior_design
So much life and cheer! 🥰

@neverskipbrunch
I think I need most of this in my space

@thatsmrsirvin
Can't get enough of this room and your pillow collection 🧡🧡🧡

@cynthia_harper_
Your space is so pretty! I love the hanging swing and the tapestry pouf! ❤️

@roozen.abode
Literally every single thing is perf! ❤️

THE BLOGGER: Mallory Fletchall of @reserve_home (164k followers)

"My plan was to make my living room really comfy and play up the architectural details, since the building is from 1901," says Mallory. "It's why I chose soft textures and muted colors. A hanging chair highlights the tall ceiling. The cake painting, by Amy Kligman, was a birthday gift from my now fiancé. It's cool how the original molding frames it."