Everything You Need for Your Ofrenda

Building ofrendas, or altars, is an important part of Día de Los Muertos. Along with pictures of loved ones, ofrendas are often decorated with skulls, flowers and loved one's favorite food and drink items. The purpose of ofrendas is to honor our loved ones and encourage them to visit us.

Food

Pan de Muerto is a traditional pan dulce eaten during the holiday. While the living can eat the bread, it is believed that spirits of the deceased will be nourished by the "essence" of the bread. Pan de Muerto is often enjoyed with a cup of champurrado, atole or Agua Fresca de Jamaica.
