

The Top Five Reasons Why a Car Service Contract Could Be Right For You

From key fob repairs or replacements to transmission failure, one thing drivers never anticipate is a sudden vehicle breakdown.

Sure, you might be okay as long as your car is under warranty, but what happens when that warranty runs out, and the unexpected happens? Aside from accidents, most insurance companies will not cover the costs of most car breakdowns.

That means once your warranty expires, any car breakdown costs from that point on are on you, the driver, no matter how good you are, which is precisely where car service contracts come into play and why they might be the right thing for you.

The Benefits Of A Car Service Contract

But first, what exactly is a car service contract? Another name for a car service contract is an extended auto warranty. If whoever you're getting one from is anything like ours at Endurance, it covers everything from maintenance benefits to high mileage, all the way to salvaged and rebuilt vehicles.

Those are to name a few reasons as to why you might need one. In the following article are five more as to how a car service contract may benefit you.

24-Hour Roadside Assistance

To begin with, one of the most common misconceptions of our 24-hour roadside assistance being the potential confusion clients have with the same feature provided by their insurance company.

They wonder why they might need another form of 24 hr roadside assistance, aside from theirs, when theirs might offer all the same features and amenities Endurance Elite Packages do. Well, if you're anything like them wondering the same thing, Endurance is here to tell you the difference between your insurance company's offering and our own by reiterating if you don't remember that unless it's an accident, you're on your own. Sure, they might be able to find you a tow, a tire replacement, or a shop that can service your transmission.

In the end, it's still going to be all up to you to figure out where you're going to get the loan needed to pay them back, unlike when you're dealing with us who can take care of all that for you.

If these arrangements are the last thing you want to deal with during emergencies like this, 24 hr roadside assistance like ours is one good reason why car service contracts might be right for you.

Personal Concierge

If you enjoy coverage that is there for you regardless of the circumstances or conditions, our concierge service is another reason why a car service contract with us might be the right choice for you.

Where inimitable 24 hr roadside assistance is one reason to get a car service contract, another reason or a better reason to consider getting an extended warranty with us is our critical first and foremost secondary approach to it, through our personal concierge.

Unlike most 24-hour roadside assistance provided to you by other insurance companies that force you through a touch-tone maze on the phone before you get to an actual person, the Endurance Personal Concierge service offers live human help with everything from reservations, directions, and tickets.

That's right, whether you're in an accident, sudden car breakdown, or natural disaster, see the concierge feature as your assistant, driving through every inch and mile it takes to get you wherever you need to go, under any condition.

Offering clients unconditional and unparalleled levels of protection through the Endurance Protect App, our Concierge feature is available to drivers 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, and 365 days a year. Drive with peace of mind, knowing that you, as the driver, are never alone with your personal concierge.

Key Fob Replacement And Repair

Beginning with what is hopefully the least likely thing to happen, if losing your key fob is something that happens to you occasionally enough, Endurance Car Service Contract Packages might be the right thing for you.

We all know how frustrating this is, and with the average person losing their keys around two times a week, the likelihood of it happening to you is higher than you think. In the rare case of this occurrence, a locksmith is required to be called out to make a new key on the spot, and if they can't do that, you may have to buy a new ignition lock cylinder and have a unique key made by an independent shop.

As if this wasn't already enough of a hassle, such mistakes can cost drivers anywhere from $200 to $400 on average. Whichever one of these circumstances or cases it may be, Endurance Elite Packages completely understands and empathizes with mistakes like this happening and are prepared to offer our clients up to $500 in key fob replacement and repair benefits.

Drive with peace of mind knowing that Endurance Elite Packages are prepared to get you through even some of the most annoying and inconvenient experiences.

Tire Repair And Replacement

While a lost or broken key is one of the most annoying things that can happen, one of the most dangerous and inconvenient things that can happen to an otherwise safe driver is a blown-out tire.

Imagine you're driving along, when all of a sudden a tire goes out, along with all possible control. If you don't know what to do in the case of such breakdowns like this, a car service contract might be the right thing for you.

In the less common case, the costs for tire repairs and replacement, along with the labor it takes to do so, can amount to prices ranging from $50 to $300. And to think all of it could've been taken care of and prevented by general car maintenance, the average driver is most likely to forget.

This is something you wouldn't have to worry about at all if you were covered by one of our car service contract packages. In addition to the general maintenance coverage, which includes air level checks and complete tire rotations, Endurance Car Service Contracts include two tire repairs or replacements, adding up to $125 a year in savings.

Drive with peace of mind, knowing that we have your tires covered by all the necessary care it takes to ensure improved driving performance and overall longevity.

Repair Finance

Last but not least, tire blowouts are one thing, but if you're a high mileage driver that is not prepared to deal with some of the most grueling and inconvenient repair finances, then a car service contract might be the right thing for you.

Again, in case you've forgotten, unless it's an accident, you're liable for any necessary repair finances your car will most likely need in the future. With AC repairs averaging costs of up to $1800, transmission - $3000, and engine $4000, you don't want to be caught empty-handed when these unfortunate events come up.

With solutions provided by Endurance Car Service Contracts that include up to $5000 in loans necessary to cover such repairs, you as the high mileage driver don't ever have to worry about a thing.

In addition to the costs we have covered by loans, you can set up easy payment plans to take care of; we also have a list of verified shops and mechanics for clients that don't know of any, and are wary of when it comes to having to choose.

Drive with peace of mind knowing that we take care of everything from that to the lodgings you might need in the rare case of it happening while you're away. Drive easy knowing that in the rare chance of this happening, all you have to do is drop your car off at the shop.

Final Thoughts

Now that you have five reasons why a car service contract might be the right thing for you, it's time to start deciding which out of those are the best reasons to go with an Endurance Car Service Contract Package.

While we've already gone over some of the better reasons being the unparalleled and unconditional roadside app and vehicle breakdown features, the best reasons our clients will attest to are the amounts of money you'll save.

If you're still unconvinced by the reasons Endurance has laid out for you here in this article, please call us for more information and a free quote today.

Captions

Instagram

For those of you out there that don't know, a car service contract is another name for an extended warranty, and if you've outdriven your initial warranty, you might want to consider getting one. Read on for our top five reasons as to why a car service contract might be the right thing for you—link in bio.

Twitter

Unless you're in an accident, did you know that if you've outdriven your vehicle's initial warranty, you're liable for any vehicle breakdowns? That's one reason to get a car service contract with us at Endurance. A car service contract is another name for an extended warranty, and here are five more reasons as to why it might be just the right thing for you.

Facebook

Average AC repairs cost up to $1800, transmissions up to $3000, and engines $4000. Repair finances are some of the best reasons why a high mileage driver like yourself should consider an extended warranty, which is another name for a car service contract. Check out our blog for a few more reasons as to why a car service contract might be the right solution for you.