

How Old Do I Have To Be To Vape?

The food and drug administration had changed the legal smoking age in the U.S. from 18 to 21, so you currently have to be 21-years-old or above.

Why Is My Vape Juice Turning Brown?

Vape juice turning brown occurs through a process known as oxidization, but the color of the e juice can also be affected by exposure to light and heat, though this is a much more gradual change.

What Temperature Do I Vape E Juice?

Most people agree that the sweet spot for vape juice is at around 420 degrees Fahrenheit (216 Celsius). This allows you to taste as much flavor as possible without burning it too much. If you decide to add even more flavor, it's recommended you up the temperature to 425-450 degrees.

How Do I Dilute Vape Juice?

Diluting vape juice is the process by which you essentially "water down" the nicotine. This can be done by adding more vegetable glycerine to the liquid. Other vapers buy vape juice with zero nicotine and add that to another juice.

Why Can't I Taste My Vape Juice?

If you're vaping too frequently, it can often result in dry mouth or fatigued tongue, which happens when your mouth is not providing adequate saliva. Stop for a while; it'll come back.

How Is Vape Juice Nicotine Measured?

Typically, nicotine in e juice is measured in milligrams by the milliliter. So for a 6mg/ml, every milliliter has 6 milligrams of nicotine.

How Do I Make Vape Juice Last Longer?

There are a lot of different ways to make your e juice last longer. First, ditch high powered mods that burn it away faster. Use a low power output or high resistance coil. Use a higher nicotine strength or switch to salt nics. A higher PG e-liquid also lasts longer.

Can Vape Juice Expire?

Yes, though the time varies depending on the e juice. Vape juice is meant to have a long shelf life. As a good general rule, a juice will last between one and two years if properly stored.

How Much Vape Juice Can I Take on a Plane?

Vape juice is like any other liquid. When it comes to airplane travel, they only allow a resealable container holding 1 liter or less. Though unless you're a vape juice traveling salesman, we don't see this being much of an issue.

How Much Vape Juice is a Pack of Cigarettes?

Those concerned with their nicotine intake will be pleased to know that a 1-milliliter bottle of vape juice is equal to only roughly half a pack of cigarettes.

So a 6mg Vape Juice Equals How Many Cigarettes?

Really? You've got a calculator right there on your computer. Here's the math anyway: a 6mg vape juice equals about 45 cigarettes.

Why Does My Vape Shoot Juice in my Mouth?

This is known as spitting, and it occurs when e-liquid has pooled around the coil itself. Rather than being vaped, you're sucking it directly. This can be caused by damaged o-rings and loose seals, though it can also be solved by keeping your vape upright.

How Long Does 30ml Vape Juice Last?

The average vaper usually consumes around 2-3ml per day. By that math, a 30ml bottle of vape juice should last between 10-15 days.

How Much is a Bottle of Vape Juice?

Vape juice can come in bottles ranging from 10ml to 30ml. Prices vary, and they are not always determined by bottle size. Usually, a vaper can expect to spend between $10 and $30 a bottle.

How Do I Make Vape Juice Sweeter?

If you prefer to have sweeter flavors for your vape juice, purchasing Ethyl Maltol and adding it to your juices will provide the desired taste.

What Can I Use Instead of Vape Juice?

The truth is, you can vape anything. However, and this is crucial, you can't inhale everything, as there are plenty of toxic fumes out there. But things like essential oils, CBD, and THC can be vaped, though it's important to know they must first be distilled.

What Makes Vape Juice Sweet?

The sweet taste in your vape juice comes from the sucralose in the flavoring. This is added to kill the burnt taste that comes from vaping nicotine.

What is the Highest Nicotine Level in Vape Juice?

Commercial vape juice flavors come in strengths of 3mg, 6mg, 8mg, 10mg, 12mg, and 18mg. However, if you're feeling bold, the highest level is set at 36mg.

How Do I Know When My Vape is Out of Juice?

Eventually, it's going to come time to refill your tank. When it's time, you'll start to notice a decrease in the vapor produced with every draw. When it's almost entirely empty, you will start to experience a burnt taste.

Where Can I Buy Vape Juice Online?

Since the vape market has opened up, there are countless websites that offer online vape products, including juices. We've compiled a list of the best on the market here...

Why Does My Vape Juice Have No Taste?

Once again, this is likely from a fatigued tongue suffering flavor fatigue. Stop vaping for a little while. There are some products, such as Orajel, that can help reduce discomfort and produce more saliva.

What is the Best Vape Juice Flavor?

Take your pick and gather round, friends, because we have everything from classic menthol or cigarette flavor to blueberry cheesecake. Whatever your choice, the answer to this question is entirely a matter of taste. There's virtually no flavor they can't dream up in a lab.

What Happens If I Vape Without Juice?

Should you try and take a hit off an empty vape, you'll be met with the unpleasant experience of a burnt hit. Essentially, you're sucking on the vapor of burnt cotton in the wick. It's not recommended.

What Does Strength Mean in Vape Juice?

The strength in your vape juice represents how many mg of nicotine is in a milliliter of juice. The higher the strength, the more nicotine you're ingesting.

What Happens if I Get Vape Juice on My Skin?

Should you happen to spill vape juice on your person, don't panic. Simply go to the sink and wash the affected area with soap. E-liquid is water-soluble, so it will disappear. Drinking vape juice straight, however, is another story. Don't do that.

What is Pre-Steeping Vape Juice?

Pre-steeping your vape juice means to allow the flavor to fully absorb into the liquid. It's similar to letting your vape juice ripen.

Are There Restrictions on Who Can Sell Vape Juice?

States usually require vendors who sell alcohol and tobacco to be permitted to do so, and a growing number of states are pushing legislation to make the same permits applicable to vape products.

What Vape Juice Can I Put into a Juul?

Juuls are pods of nic salts that come pre-filled. You could theoretically refill a juul pod with vape juice, though you would have a much smaller nicotine content than usual.

What Vape Juice Has the Strongest Flavor?

This year, Vaping360.com took a look at the best strong flavors on the market. Here are their findings, which we tend to agree with.

Does E-liquid Contain Diacetyl?

Diacetyl is an organic compound with an intense buttery flavor. It has raised concerns in the medical world because it can bind with DNA and cause cell death. Some e-liquids can contain the compound, but not all. It can be present in some fruit flavors as well as cigarette flavors.

What is Short Fill E-liquid?

Short fill e-liquids are VG-based vape juices that contain zero nicotine. They typically come in larger bottles and can be used to dilute other flavors with nicotine.

How Do Nicotine Shots Work?

Nicotine shots are the very opposite of short fill e-liquids. Brands such as Nicit Up and Just Nic It can be added to nicotine-free e-liquids to give them a dose of nicotine.

Does E-liquid Contain Vitamin E Acetate?

Vitamin E acetate is used in some vaping products as a thickener. It's also used in some supplements and skin creams. Why it's a concern has to do with it recently coming up in some damaged lungs. While it seems to be fine when applied topically, there is some question about its safety when inhaled. That said, not all vaping products use Vitamin E acetate.

What's the Difference Between % and mg/ml Nicotine Strengths?

Typically, E-liquids are displayed in mg/ml strengths, which tell you how much nicotine is in every milliliter of liquid. The percentage will show you the amount of nicotine contained in the whole bottle.