

Alien Zapples

I was looking for a preroll with that right blend of energy and calm, but Indica's were putting me to sleep, and Sativa's can make it hard to sleep sometimes. I was buying both for the longest time and timing when to use them. The great ladies at City Haze turned me on to Alien Zapples prerolls, and that has made my life so much easier.

The Alien Zapples blend by City Haze is a hybrid blend that takes the energy I get from a good Sativa and mixes it with that mellow I get from an Indica. I switched to prerolls a long time ago because I don't have time to roll my own joints anymore. When I get home from work, I want some time to relax. The THC level in this bud is perfect for a night in, but I keep it with me if I'm chilling with friends.

I know Alien Zapples aren't going to put me to sleep, but it's also not going to trigger my anxiety. The wrong Sativa makes me shaky and anxious, but I want that energetic boost it gives me. City Haze's cannabis flowers are super high quality, and when I buy their stuff, I know that what I'm getting is the real deal.

The taste of this bud is unreal, and the flower they use just has to be top quality. This gives me such a euphoric high that's just what I needed for this San Francisco summer. If you're in the market for a good bud, check out the Zone2 website and snatch up some Alien Zapples before I clear them out. You will not regret what these great budtenders have to offer!
