

We know, we live by it too. You just can't get your day started right without a cuppa joe. And whether you're one of those old boomers who talks about the days it cost a nickel with an egg how you liked it and your choice of meat or you're a more refined, elitist coffee drinker, the quality of your coffee is going to dictate how the rest of your day is going to go. Time was, it was coffee and cigarettes. And there's something strangely romantic about the two, like an Edward Hopper painting or a Tom Waits song.

Now, however, it's possible to complement or even replace your cuppa joe with the smooth, soothing flavor of a good coffee e-liquid. And we've searched the net and sampled the best of coffee vape juices out there. These flavors run the gamut of elite to all-nite diner coffee, for your perfect morning, afternoon or evening pick-me-up.

Cubano E-Liquid by VGOD SaltNic

Cubano E-Liquid by VGOD SaltNic — MistHub

There's plenty of talk about the great white whale of embargoed products, the Cuban cigar. Businessmen, rogue journalists and soldiers have jumped at the chance to sneak some in with their carry on. But their coffee is equally good, and Cubano at misthub is some of the richest, creamy vanilla e-liquid on the market. The milky white of a good espresso coats your throat, while the overall coffee scent gives you that extra jolt you need most mornings.

NATIONAL DONUT

National Donut - \$6 Coffee \(ejuices.com\)

There's something so stereotypical about coffee and donuts, much like cigarettes, but there's no denying they're an American staple. It's not just police that pair the two, especially since the meteoric rise of Crispy

Creme. And this coffee e-liquid from ejuices.com perfectly encapsulates the taste of washing down your favorite treat with a fine cup of coffee. Be it Dunkin' Donuts or someplace fancier, there are few things more American.
