Is child proofing the apartment enough?

NO But securing their future is

Birla Sun Life '95 Fund

An Open ended Balance Scheme

When it comes to your investments, you rightfully want both- growth & stability. An investment in shares may be ideal for long term growth but comes with volatility. On the other hand, while bonds may be more stable, you might have to compromise on returns. So, why settle for just one?

Presenting, Birla Sun Life '95 Fund- a fund with a track record of over 16 years, which allocates your money to both shares and bonds.

The shares component of the investment aims to give you growth, while the bonds portion, being relatively stable, aims to reduce the effect of a fall in equity markets.
