

RESTAURANT WEEK CONTINUES!

It's your lucky day, Boston food lovers: Restaurant Week Boston (aka Dine Out Boston) has added another week of prix fixe feasting — March 15-20th — to the agenda. There are more than 135 spots participating (just look for the ones that say "Extending Restaurant Week") and make your reservation asap to take advantage of this sweet deal. Book your prix fixe meal today!

ST. PATRICK'S DAY HAPPENINGS

The parade may be canceled but you can celebrate Irish heritage (your own or someone else's) with all sorts of shenanigans! From Irish-inspired grub, specialty drinks to local Irish bands - you won't miss a beat this year. Read more on where to celebrate all things green and gold.

PI DAY PIES FROM ROSEBUD

You know what would make you feel better during these uncertain times? Pie. Have your fill of it (and then some) with just a tiny bit of help (and lots of pie) from the folks at Rosebud American Kitchen & Bar. The Davis Square spot has long been known for its prowess in the pie... Read More

SERVICE BAR CHAT WITH JOHN MARANO

Like plenty of folks around these parts, John Marano came to Boston for school and stuck around after. Since then he's become a familiar face in the dining room and behind the bar at spots like Grotto on Beacon Hill and, more recently, Barcelona Wine Bar, where he's been shaking up cocktails and pouring wine...
