

5 TIPS for Parents CREATING a Matrimonial PROFILE

In Pakistan, it's invariably the parents who take the first step in finding a match for their son or daughter. They consider this to be a sacred duty and they will go to any lengths to make it happen. But are the matrimonial profiles created by parents accurate? Do they improve the chances of finding the right person? But first let us tell you about Get Rishta, the largest matrimonial services provider in Pakistan that will certainly cater to all your needs. So what are you waiting for?

Today we will be sharing 5 tips for parents who want to create a matrimony profile for their son or daughter.

Tip 1: Talk To Your Son or Daughter First

We all like pleasant surprises but marriage is a serious business. Don't surprise your sons or daughters with photos and bio data of prospective matches all of a sudden. It is a humble request from parents that first find out from your son or daughter if they are ready to get married and not force them into a marriage. This is one of the most important tips when finding the perfect match.

Tip 2: Understand Their Lifestyle and Interest

When you create a matrimony profile for your son or daughter, don't just add a generic set of hobbies to make the profile look interesting. Talk to your son or daughter, understand what their goals and aspirations are. This point is even more important if your son or daughter is living in a different city. One should always be genuine and straight-forward when it comes to matrimony profiles.

Tip 3: Avoid Clichés When Writing the Profile

We are all prisoners of our opinion. We may form an opinion on how a profile should be written based on how others have written their profiles. Avoid clichés such as a professional degree holder who can take care of the house. You should probably hire a housekeeper for that. Also avoid using complicated words that nobody understands. You should keep the language simple and straight-forward. A good level of grammar and sentence structure is also well appreciated.

Tip 4: Hard Facts Are Not the Only Criteria

The advantage of arranged marriage is that parents can evaluate all important factors such as social status, professional and financial background. Unlike love marriages, arranged marriages are not emotional decisions and are based on hard facts. At the end of the day, arranged marriage is not a business deal to secure a better future for your son or daughter. The boy and the girl should be committed to each other if their marriage is to be successful. They should have the full responsibility when it comes to choosing their life partner.

Tip 5: Give Adequate Time to Decide After First Meeting

Parents everywhere are anxious to get their sons or daughters married before it's too late. But marriage is a big decision. If after the first meeting, your son or daughter is not in a position to take a decision don't force them into a marriage through emotional blackmail. It's preferable to meet the other family few times before you make your final decision.
