

LOVING TRIBUTES & CEREMONIES

Drawing on sacred traditions and his deep background in helping people navigate loss and change, Charlie Semeraro creates a sacred space for memorialization dedicated to honoring our cherished pets, who gave us their unconditional love and devotion, while also supporting people and families of all ages grieve their loss.

You don't have to do it alone

It can be quite hard to say goodbye to your beloved, loyal companion. We understand grief and are here to help. Through fire ceremony, sharing stories, mediation, music, readings and other poignant traditions, we facilitate beautiful, meaningful ceremonies that honor your pets' life and death, and brings love, emotional support and peace to all.

"He who mourns, mends."

— Dr. Alan Wolfelt, a leading US death educator, author and grief counselor

The loss of a pet is just as heartbreaking as that of a person. It's important to grieve your pet, as they were your best friend and an irreplaceable, loving part of your family. When grieving for a pet, planning and having a memorial can be extremely helpful for you and your family to move through the grieving process.
