

Fashion news

Breathe new life into your wardrobe with fresh spring styles and take Ljubenka's advice on owning your colour choices.

Edited by FLEUR MEALING

Linen love

Coming into the warmer months, there is no better fabric than linen. Light and easy, it is the perfect addition to a spring wardrobe. Try the Max Rachel Flared Sleeve Dress in Grey Crosshatch Spot, $149.99. See maxshop.com.

Style and affordability meet at Postie with a drop of beautiful boho blouses. Lightweight and relaxed, the Printed Boho Top, $25, is perfect for laidback spring dressing.

See postie.co.nz.

ASK LJUBENKA

Q Hi Ljubenka, I am a pale brunette and I have always been told pastels don't suit my complexion. I am drawn to the light blues and lilacs in the stores but I naturally am put off wearing them because of what I have been told. Is there any way for paler complexions to wear pastels?

A Yes, there is. Firstly, you should always own whatever look, colour or style you feel great or confident in. I don't believe in strict style or colour rules when it comes to fashion. There are always 'shades of grey' as long as you own and conquer the differences. So going forward, wear what you love and what makes you feel your best. When you are a pale brunette, you certainly have options and choices when it comes to colour. Some of the most flattering options include:

- Light grey
- Pastel blue
- Lavender
- Soft pink
- Sea-foam green
- Periwinkle
- Mint green

Enjoy and make the most of your fashion colour choices and options. Make sure you experiment and play with the choices available, as you might discover something amazing along the way.

Good for the sole

Allbirds has branched out from its much-loved wool sneakers and created its own version of the gold ol' Kiwi jandal. Sugar Zeffers are made from sustainable SweetFoam, set to revolutionise the shoe market. Even Leonardo DiCaprio is a fan, signing on as an investor in the sustainable-fashion company. Prices start at $60 per pair, with interchangeable straps for $26. Available from allbirds.co.nz.

Ted Baker Twisela Peach Blossom Cover-up, $209.

Heidi Klum Balmy Nights Coverup, $149.

Heidi Klum Desert Sunset One Piece, $159.

SEA CHANGE

Invest in classic swimwear that will last longer than one season and add another layer of comfort with stylish resort wear.