

Blind date

Get ready to meet the window shades you'll be thrilled to wake up next to.

Erase all memory of dusty old-school Venetians — blinds have evolved to become a real catch. Luxaflex has been inventing and reinventing them in New Zealand since the '50s, and today their sleek, simple Roller Blinds are among the most sophisticated and practical designs around.

Made in Auckland, Luxaflex Roller Blinds are innovative, enviably ageless and available in more than 300 colour and texture combinations. Varying weights and set-ups mean they can be fine-tuned to become your perfect match, achieving just the right balance of light, warmth and privacy. Turn the page and we'll set you two up. >

Team translucent blinds in your living spaces with matching Blockouts in your bedrooms to meet your different light-filtering needs while providing a consistent look throughout the house.

Deep dark

At the other end of the spectrum, Blockout fabrics offer darkness and seclusion. Maximise the mood in your living room on movie nights or get the best sleeps in your bedroom with this option that prevents light from entering with features such as a headbox and side channel combination for a total black-out. For Roller Blinds that are fitted above the window frame, there are also designs that conceal the roller tube to retain a streamlined look.

Made for the shade

Luxaflex Sunscreen fabrics shade spaces from the sun, reduce heat and glare and foil nosy neighbours, while still allowing you to enjoy the view. As with the rest of the Roller Blinds range, there are anti-microbial, sanitised and mould- and mildew-resistant options to combat allergies. Other fabrics are fire-retardant, PVC-free, or Oeko-Tex and Greenguard certified for reduced chemical load and improved air quality. In muckier areas such as kitchens, Duraguard protection can help repel stains.

Real-life filter

A no-brainer for street-front windows, Luxaflex's Light Filtering fabrics see ambient light and privacy go hand in hand, allowing the sun to illuminate your interior naturally while you keep yourself to yourself. With all Luxaflex Roller Blinds, when making your fabric selection, you can also tailor the blinds' bottom rails to your taste, with multiple hues and shapes to choose from.

What's better than one?

Dual Roller Blinds! For those who want daytime screening or filtering and soothing darkness at night, Luxaflex's twin-bracket system pairs two Roller Blinds on a single window to cater to your every mood. Linked systems are also available for extra-wide windows and doors. luxaflex.co.nz

ABOVE A pared-back, timeless look that delivers exceptional value long-term, Luxaflex Roller Blinds can complement virtually any interior palette and are super user-friendly. There's a manual control option with a classic chain or chainless spring motor that gives you the power to control your blinds by hand, or you could go for an automated version that's operated by a switch or remote, or wirelessly by smartphone, tablet or via voice control.
