

Well & good

Little things that make life more liveable.

BECAUSE THE NIGHT Wishing we were drifting off in something a bit more fashionable is a nightly occurrence for us, but those old faithfuls are just so goddam comfy. Happily, though, our evening prayers have been answered by General Sleep Store. Made from soft cotton linen handwoven in India, their pyjamas are as cosy as the ones under your pillow, only better – way better. They're also intended to be worn when you're not between the sheets: round the house, up to the dairy, over togs and on long-haul flights. generalsleepstore.com

GO WITHOUT Sans [ceuticals] is as much about what's not in their natural skin and haircare products as what is, and their new Woods collection is all the more alluring for its suitably concise edit. The Palm Comb, Circle Clip (pictured) and U Pin, all crafted by artist Talcia Emes from sustainably sourced totara, are each designed to be a single step to effortlessly chic tresses. sansceuticals.com

YAHOO, CEREALS Why do we like Blue Frog wholefood cereals? Because they taste really good and make us feel vaguely superior. If you've never tried green banana flour, kumara or beetroot concentrate for breakfast, now's your chance. Paleo, vegan or gluten-free, all are made with maximum flavour and nutrition in mind. Go get 'em. bluefrogbreakfast.co.nz

SO MUCH IN COMMON The Hawkes Bay-based online retailer and workshop formerly known as Mekka has pulled a switcheroo and reinvented itself as Common Times. Don't freak out, though – all that cool kitchen and table stuff is still available, as well as new finds like the latest batch of ceramics from George Sand Studio. There's loads you'll want to get your hands on, so it's more good news that they're also sticking with their free shipping in Aotearoa. commontimes.co.nz

MEET FOR A DRINK The Barker family made their first cordial in 1981. Cut to today and they've created a range of more 'adult' botanical syrups made from locally grown fruit, with no preservatives and less sugar. Behold: Fruit Fizz made with the Squeezed Blood Oranges with Lime & Bitters cordial, soda water and sliced peaches, apricots, mangoes and apples. barkers.co.nz

G'DAY Hello Polly is an online store run by Kiwi-sisters-in-Melbourne Sarah Kelk and Helen Adam – they named it after their grandma. They stock their debut Holly Polly Home range and products from more than 100 independent creatives, like this Polka Dot Vase tray by Depeapa. You'll need to handwash it, but its surface is heat- and (pewh) alcohol-resistant. hellopolly.com.au

THAT'S LUNCH

Cooler Café bag by Kollab, $25, alexandcorban.co.nz.

Indigo bento bag, from $19, mavisandosborn.com.

Stainless steel lunchbox, $39, mealsinsteel.nz.

Kenny lunch bag, $30, countryroad.com.au.

TWO RIVERS
of
MARLBOROUGH

NEW ZEALAND'S
NO.1 ROSÉ
- CUISINE MAGAZINE

TWO RIVERS L'ILE DE
BEAUTÉ ROSÉ 2016

“He’s done it again...
Two Rivers’ winemaker
Dave Clouston has claimed the top spot for the third time in four years.”

BEAUTIFULLY PERFUMED
WILD STRAWBERRIES
REFRESHINGLY DRY