The Most Wonderful Time of the Year...

At DEMDACO, we know and appreciate the value of lifting the spirit in others. It's something we embrace all year long and is part of everything we do. This is especially true at the holidays.

Like you, we know the holiday season is so much more than a chance to give a gift to someone special. It's a time for wishes and invitations to connect and reflect. It's a season for celebration, spending meaningful time together, and embracing traditions (both old and new). That's why we're so excited to bring you our holiday catalog.

In the pages that follow, you'll see ideas as well as stories from DEMDACO family and friends about what the holidays mean to them. Their inspirations helped us create a holiday offering of artisan, handcrafted gifts to make your meaningful moments and the season even more memorable.

Whatever meanings and memories the holidays hold for you, may the season be bright, full of wonder and time with friends and family — the true gifts throughout the year.

'Tis the season...

By my side

From each other, over the years, we gather strength, through laughter and tears.

“I have two sisters — as far back as I can remember, the three of us have always been very connected. Even if they are far away, I feel like they’re always right here, by my side. It’s the little, fun, silly moments — thousands of them — that fill me up when I’m with my female friends, be they sisters, girlfriends, cousins...”

Artist Sharon Nowlan

Sharon Nowlan grew up drawing, painting and creating in a variety of media in Pictou, a charming, old seaside town in Nova Scotia, Canada — home to people who fish, farm, sing, dance and hang their clothes outside to dry. It's a friendly place centered around community and family.

The spirit of Pictou's diverse landscapes and welcoming residents flows through her serene work — a mix of items found in nature and other materials carefully arranged by hand into uplifting designs that celebrate meaningful relationships and special places.

Now, widely available in highly-detailed artisan reproductions, Sharon's artwork is a DEMDACO top-seller. Her Collection was recently expanded to include new pieces inspired by the soft hues of blue and green sea glass for added touches of color and depicting a wider range of engaging subject matter, such as Holiday themes.

Read about the Holidays in Pictou and Sharon's perspective on creating Holiday-themed artwork on our blog. blog.demdaco.com/Nowlan

Reflecting on the Christmas Story

As enduring as the story it portrays, the Willow Tree® Nativity is as loved today as when it was originally introduced with DEMDACO in 2000. Its simplicity and form have made it a timeless classic. Each of the four Nativity collections has a distinct heirloom quality, creating family holiday traditions and gracing homes for many seasons to come.

"The Story of Christmas is a story from the past... but the overwhelming emotions of holding a new baby, starting a new family, and wanting to protect them forevermore are present today in every culture and every age. My hope is that the gestures of Mary and Joseph will represent these powerful feelings of love and protection."

The Kitchen Boa®

For Laura Laiben, founder of The Culinary Center of Kansas City™, cooking is about so much more than making meals — it's about the magic that happens around the table. Laura is always on the lookout for kitchen tools that are convenient and efficient — anything to make her job as the chef easier so she can enjoy the experience more. The Kitchen Boa is a brainchild of that philosophy. With the dish towel tucked neatly around the neck, instead of precariously tossed over the shoulder, this all-important kitchen tool is handy, clean and worry-free.

Lift the Spirit Days

At DEMDACO, we're committed to the notion that business does not have to be solely a financial endeavor. It is first, and foremost, a human endeavor. That is why we strive to Lift the Spirit as our mission. This perspective shapes us, particularly when it comes to community involvement. It is one of the ways we're able to live out our Lift the Spirit mission.

Community involvement is an important way that we measure whether we are lifting spirits. It might be with a financial donation to an organization or a product donation for a fundraising event. It's also the way our colleagues use their community time off. Each year, DEMDACO colleagues receive five paid Lift the Spirit Days to volunteer at the organization of their choice. It is one of the ways we believe best demonstrates our Lift the Spirit mission. Both the DEMDACO colleague and the community benefit.

A Home for the Holidays

On June 12, 2019 more than 40 DEMDACO colleagues volunteered at Kansas City's Veterans Community Project — an organization that refuses to let any veteran fall through the cracks. From providing housing to offering walk-in support services, they're here for everyone who took the oath to serve America.

The cornerstone of VCP is the Village, an innovative community of 49 tiny houses for homeless veterans. The homes range in size from 240 to 320 square feet and provides everything he or she needs to live with dignity and safety — new furniture, appliances, housewares, bedding, food, and utilities, free of charge. More importantly, VCP Village provides sanctuary and the emotional space needed for the veteran and VCP's Veteran Support Services team to thoroughly address the underlying causes of his or her homelessness.

On any given night, more than 37,000 veterans are homeless in the United States. To learn how you can donate or volunteer to work at VCP, please visit veteranscommunityproject.org.

Artist Profile: Kate Dittmann

product designer

Artist Kate Dittmann is a DEMDACO product designer focused on developing items for our Baby lines of gifts. During her more than three years here, we've expanded our focus on Baby with warm, neutral colors, lush textiles, and heartfelt messaging that inspires deep emotional connections between young children and loved ones. The soft goods Kate designs feature luxurious fabrics and uniquely endearing touches that are "perfectly imperfect."

"It's really exciting to know I'm designing products and characters that people will see and purchase for somebody they love. That's what is specifically fun about designing for Baby — hardly anything is purchased for self," Kate said. "We're designing for special moments families will already have, but we're hoping to make them even more meaningful. I love that we aren't just trying to sell product, but genuinely want to lift people's spirits and bring some form of joy or comfort to their lives." Search "Kate Dittmann" on our website to see more of her designs.
