INT. FANCY HOME - DAY

CAROLINE -- 30s, attractive, upper middle class. She stylishly dressed and perched daintily on an expensive looking sofa. She holds a glass of white wine.

CAROLINE

Are you looking to take charge of your own life? Do you want to ditch the patriarchy in favor of writing your own destiny? Then my course is for you.

She takes a long sip of wine.

CAROLINE (CONT'D)

Hi, I'm Caroline Drecker, CEO, Entrepreneur, Feminist. Three years ago I was living the dead-end suburban life. Kids that didn't respect me, a husband that didn't care. I knew I needed a change. I knew it was time to embrace my inner girlboss.

Caroline stands up and stares at a portrait of herself on the wall, before turning back to the camera.

CAROLINE (CONT'D)

Now, I earn tens of thousands of dollars a month working for myself. I'm answerable to no man. How?

(beat)

I started a successful drug ring selling illegal narcotics to teenagers. And you can too! With my 8-week online course, you'll learn the ins and outs of running your own crime syndicate.

As Caroline speaks, the lesson titles appear on the screen.

For only $99, I'll teach you the dos and don'ts of running an illegal operation.

Lessons includes learning how to cry on command to get out of police interactions, instilling fear in the heart of your henchmen, how to win a a turf war in an oversaturated market, countries that don't have extradition treaties, and of course how to practice selfcare as a busy businesswoman. With my course, you'll gain confidence, learn how to "lean in" and embrace your badass feminine side.

But don't just take my word from it. Hear from a few of my former students that have become powerful leaders in their industries.

CUT TO:

INT. APARTMENT - NIGHT

CLAIRE, dressed in a nurses outfit, stands in a living room, rifling through drawers, pocketing jewelry. An OLD WOMAN sleeps in a chair behind her.

CLAIRE

I used to be a quiet, shy girl working for minimum wage. But with Caroline's course, I've gone from being an average care worker to running a successful Ponzi scheme stealing from the elderly. With all the superannuation I've stolen, I just bought my second house. Thanks Caroline.

INT. WAREHOUSE - DAY

MEGAN

People used to make fun of me for getting an art degree at uni. They said I'd wind up a waitress my whole life barely paying my student loans. But now, I'm making millions a year. Literally. Guess my art degree came in handy after all.

ONE OF THE MEN brings her over a freshly printed bill. She looks at it.

MEGAN (CONT'D)
(angry)
More purple you little fucking imbecile.

He nods anxiously and cowers away.

MEGAN (CONT'D)
(to camera, composed)
Thanks Caroline.

INT. BASEMENT BUNKER - DAY

SARAH, a girly-girl dressed seductively, stands with a MAN. She lifts up a blanket, revealing a horde of weapons on a table. The man nods and hands her a briefcase filled with money.

SARAH
People used to only see me as a sex symbol -- no one believed I had any brains. But the I took Caroline's class and learned how to intimidate people and command the respect I deserve. Now, I smuggle weapons into Iran and look great doing it.
