

GIVE & TAKE: Doing Our Damnedest NOT to be Another Charity in Haiti

Haselhoeft began GIVE & TAKE in 2010 while in Haiti. At night, she stayed up later than her travel colleagues and looked for something to do that was quiet and needed only the light from a headlamp. She began writing summaries of the day's events, always careful to tie up loose ends.

She joined writing groups and workshops to help nurture the process for the next two years, completed the first draft of the book during November 2012, National Novel Writing Month, and spent 2013 and 2014 re-writing, editing, and proofing. The book was published February 26, 2015.
