Electra Hospital's Texoma Gives Fundraiser

ELECTRA, TX — This year's Texoma Gives is happening now through September 10th, and Electra Hospital District is collecting donations for their non-profit, the Electra Hospital Foundation, in a very unique way.

What is the Electra Hospital Foundation? Established in 1974, the Foundation was created to accept donations benefiting Electra Hospital District and enhancing patient experience. For the past 3 years, the Foundation has participated in Texoma Gives, enabling it to pledge $40,000 toward the construction of a covered walkway to the Rehab entrance, according to Rebecca McCain, Chief Executive Office at EHD.

To put a fun twist on their Texoma Gives fundraiser, each year EHD displays several boxes decorated by different departments throughout the District, said Cassie Fisher, director of business development with EHD. Meant to encourage your donations, these elaborate and fun boxes are located in the central lobby of Electra Memorial Hospital, each having an opening where donations can be deposited. As an added incentive to raise funds, the department whose box raises the most by Sept. 11 will perform a skit at the annual company Christmas party, said Fisher.

“It's really a fun experience and gets very competitive,” said Fisher. “And it's great to watch the winning department put on a funny skit for everyone at the end of the year.”

So be sure to stop by the hospital to place a donation in the box of your choice to help fuel the competitive spirit!

Are you interested in donating but unable to visit in-person? Give Electra Memorial Hospital a call to ask about Texoma Gives and the Electra Hospital Foundation, said Fisher. EMH staff will inform you about all the ways you can donate, whether it be online or over the phone: (940) 495-3981. Electra Hospital District and Electra Hospital Foundation appreciates their community for all their help and support, said Fisher.
