Now, to make a push-up more challenging, you can elevate your feet. Elevating the feet by 30cm results in you pushing up 70% of your bodyweight. When you elevate the heels by 60cm, you push-up 74% of your bodyweight. Now, it is worth mentioning that the push-up weight at different box heights also depends a bit on your height. Taller individuals will lift less percent of their bodyweight at the same box height compared to shorter individuals. But the figures shown in this post are good guidelines!

In studies of GENOTROPIN in adults with GHD, side effects included fluid retention, joint or muscle pain, stiffness, and changes in sensation. Usually these side effects did not last long and depended on the dose of GENOTROPIN being taken. GENOTROPIN cartridges contain m-Cresol and should not be used by patients allergic to it.
