

Introduction

We all dream about what we could do. The line between dreamer and entrepreneur is the doing. They have a notion to...so they do. / Roget's Thesaurus defines an entrepreneur as someone who starts a business alone. They are alone for a while—the brainchild, the loan department, the owner, the sole employee. / These Doane entrepreneurs didn't talk to us about a job. They talked about passion and offered their own definition of entrepreneur. Someone who can change and adapt. Someone whose work is intrinsic to life. Someone who found purpose. / Here are four great role models.
