Les Brown says "YOU HAVE TO BE HUNGRY" How badly do you want this? How much effort/time are you willing to put in? How much sleep and friendships n relationships are you willing trade in order to have what you so eagerly desire? It all comes down to you... Get serious, buckle down n take control of your destiny. Nobody is coming to do this for you... No-one, this is all you and if you don't decide to do something about it you will forever sit down in that same place waiting for the right time. Anytime is the right time when you're getting your life together.... Start doing every single thing you can to lead you to a better life, do it for the ones who don't believe in you. Do it for the ones who look under their noses at you, do it for the ones that believe in you, the ones who love n want the best for you. But most importantly do it for you, prove yourself to yourself!
