☞ Chronically elevated cortisol levels have an inhibiting effect on Gonadatropin-releasing hormone, (GnRH) this hormone is responsible for for the release of FSH and LH, so by inhibiting GnRH this will lead to reduced pulsatility of FSH and LH. Without FSH and LH, the ovaries do not grow follicles, and without growing follicles ovulation cannot occur. And if ovulation is missing or delayed, your period will be missing or delayed.

Cyta-Med is an intramuscular injectable steroid in form of oily solution. It is available in the concentration of 300 mg/ml. Cyta-Med promotes the muscle mass building and is recommended as the main steroid in the bulking cycle. The results are noticeable after the dose of 300-2000 mg per week.

So it might be a good idea to get your drinking under control before the big hormonal changes hit, so you know what 'normal' feels like, and also understand better how the menopause may be affecting you.
