

Advanced Anti-Ageing Décolletage Treatment

Overview

The décolletage is one of the first areas to show signs of ageing. The skin on the neck and chest is thinner than the skin on the arms and legs making it particularly prone to exhibiting the signs of ageing such as lines, sunspots, pigmentation and crepiness. The décolletage is frequently exposed to the sun and UV damage and is also an area that is often neglected when it comes to both preventing this harmful exposure, as well as extending our anti-ageing skincare regime to.

Ageing of the décolletage is caused by both genetic, environmental factors and hormones. As we age, our levels of collagen and elastin depletes and our ability to maintain a healthy production of these proteins diminishes. Consequently, lines and wrinkles appear on our décolletage. Areas of pigmentation may also become more obvious and the skin takes on a 'mottled' appearance. With a loss of elasticity, the skin becomes thinner and lacks firmness and resilience. At Kate Kerr London, we will educate you on the potential causes of the symptoms you're experiencing on your décolletage, how this fragile area can be protected and how we can help reverse damage and restore your skin's vitality.

The Advanced Anti-Ageing Décolletage Treatment comprises of a multi-faceted approach by combining the most cutting-edge treatments and ingredients specifically formulated to improve the appearance of the décolletage. Our innovative method simultaneously prevents and corrects the appearance of ageing in this delicate area.

The benefits of the Advanced Anti-Ageing Décolletage Treatment

- Boosts skin's radiance.
- Increases skin firmness.
- Stimulates skin rejuvenation to minimise the appearance of fine lines and wrinkles.
- Provides deep hydration and nourishment.
- Improves skin tone, texture, and hyper-pigmentation issues.
- Combats oxidative stress and UV damage.

How does the Advanced Anti-Ageing Décolletage Treatment work?

At Kate Kerr, we favor the use of a micro-needling device to rejuvenate your décolletage area, combined with a superficial skin peel and the application of advanced cosmeceutical products. This fusion of powerful and potent anti-ageing ingredients and results-driven, yet, non-invasive treatments will encourage the growth of your depleting collagen levels to create a more youthful-looking, radiant, and supple chest and neckline.

The Dermapen micro-needling device creates thousands of tiny micro-channels within the skin to aid deeper penetration of the active ingredients applied during the treatment. Micro-needling enhances the infusion of growth factors, antioxidants and other active ingredients.

Additionally, a superficial skin peel will help to reduce pigmentation and improve texture and tone.

The culmination protects and combats free radical damage. It enhances your complexion by boosting hydration levels and elevates elasticity levels using anti-ageing products applied during treatment. The result is reduced fine lines and wrinkles and improved skin firmness.

What does the treatment involve?

This powerful anti-ageing décolletage treatment begins with a thorough skin consultation and skin analysis. It's during this time that we will evaluate the extent of your age-related concerns to your décolletage. Adopting a personal approach to our treatment programme, we focus on educating you on how you can take an active approach in slowing down the ageing process in this area. We will create a custom treatment and skincare programme, tailored specifically around your symptoms and concerns, as well as provide you with any further diet and lifestyle advice.

There are many steps within this facial. The treatment itself varies between individuals though usually consists of two combined and targeted treatments for your décolletage including the dermapen and a chemical skin peel. Alongside this, we will apply powerful ingredients to enhance the results of your treatment programme. We will always discuss the application of the ingredients and products with you as the treatment ensues, as they may be recommended to you as part of your homecare programme to optimise your results.

The Advanced Dermapen Décolletage Treatment is individual to you and may differ with each subsequent appointment depending on your concerns and your skin's health. For long-term maintenance, it's recommended that you visit Kate Kerr London for regular advanced clinical treatments, accompanied by a preventative, corrective and protective homecare regime.

NB: The Dermapen's micro-needles are set at a length of 0.3mm for the Anti-Ageing Décolletage Facial, compared to the 1.5mm used when performing Dermapen Micro-Needling. The difference in needle length provides a completely different method of action in the skin. The shorter length creates micro-channels in the skin, for a 'funnel' like effect, allowing for enhanced penetration of active ingredients. The longer length micro-needles, 1.5mm cause a micro-injury in the deeper layers of the skin. This triggers the wound healing response, which leads to the stimulation of collagen and elastin growth and therefore a reduction in lines and wrinkles, and an improvement in skin texture.

Who is the ideal candidate for this treatment?

The ideal candidate for this treatment will be someone who's exhibiting premature signs of ageing on their décolletage (neck and upper chest area). This includes, but is not limited to fine lines and wrinkles, cleavage lines, pigmentation, sunspots, loss of volume, sagging, laxity, and crepiness. As this treatment requires a series of sessions, the ideal candidate would be someone who is committed to reaching their aesthetic goals. They will appreciate that multiple treatments will yield the best results.

How long do the results last and when can they be seen?

Immediately after the treatment, you will notice an improvement in the hydration of the area which may result in a temporary improvement in chest wrinkles. Throughout the treatment course, you will notice continual improvement in the appearance of your chest wrinkles as collagen production enhances. You may also notice a boost in your skin's overall quality and your skin tone may look more even.

Results vary from client to client depending on the extent of their concerns, age, quality of the skin, skin type and most importantly, compliance and commitment to the treatment plan.

How many treatments are required?

For optimal results, you would be encouraged to have this treatment once every 4-6 weeks in line with your skin's renewal cycle. Regular treatments and consults allow us to adapt your skin care and treatment programme to enhance, improve and maintain your results.

Is the treatment painful?

The treatment is not painful and does not require application of a topical anaesthetic. There is minimal discomfort associated with this Advanced Anti-Ageing Décolletage Treatment.

Is this treatment suitable for all skin types?

Yes, the treatment is suitable for all skin types.

If you're unsure of your skin type, you can take our quiz (link to new tool).

How long does the treatment take?

The Advanced Anti-Ageing Décolletage Treatment is a 90-minute treatment.

Downtime

There is no downtime after the Advanced Dermapen Décolletage Anti-ageing Treatment. Normal activities can be resumed immediately.

Side effects and risks

We will assess your suitability for the treatment during your consultation. Some may find that they experience mild redness and irritation immediately after the treatment which should subside over the following days.

During your initial treatments the micro-needling or skin peel, you may find that the skin develops hypersensitivity and is no longer suitable for treatment. We adapt the treatment programme according to the skin's behavior and quality at each appointment. We'll only perform the treatment when the skin is strong and functioning well to ensure the best possible results, whilst maintaining client safety and ensure you experience no downtime.

Cost

Clinical Facialist from £230.

Kate Kerr from £320.