In 2015 we got a sub-contract job to fix a large section of a leaking roof. We leveraged on that opportunity, the job was done thoroughly and professionally within a short space of time. This payed off as anticipated, Pyramidal began its journey and has never looked back.

In 2017 we embarked on a building project to test our capacity, skills and productivity. The project was a success with a lot of lessons. This is aligned to the company's philosophy that requires our team to demonstrate productivity and excellent service delivery.

We have since gained a lot of renovating experience in both commercial and residential homes.
