

Soft Foam Baby Play Mat | Mommy's Honest Review

Meta: Soft Foam Baby Play Mat by INEX Life ensures that your lovely child is having fun but in a protected shield — The perfect play mat for your toddler's tummy time & crawling.

Being a mommy of an adorable child is one of the purest feelings one can ever have. Even though motherhood is a 24/7 job and can be tough sometimes, everything about it is cherishable. However, I experienced some serious issues when I had to handle my in-house job, house chores, and my little child altogether.

Managing the first two tasks seemed easy peasy until the thought of leaving my baby alone in his room while working used to hit my mind.

What would he be doing? Is he alright? Should I go and check on him? All these thoughts used to bother me — After all, there was no one to take care of him in that lonely room. Yeah, I know, a bit too sensitive, but Hey! Isn't this how mommies are?

As you can already guess, I just couldn't hold myself for much longer. Consequently, my caring intention but the real distraction was enough to upset my routine work, and I ended up getting a warning from my boss. Sigh! Things really got messed up for me, just like they would for any other caring mother.

So, I realized that I need something to settle my kiddo near my sight all the time. Something that can keep him safe while I can do my chores without any troublesome thoughts. Most importantly, I should be able to give him the feeling of a lovable presence around him. Here is when my search began for the best possible solution.

After a lot of brainstorming, I came across this safe and functional idea, a baby mat. Perfect for shielding my baby while keeping him around me all the time. A solution to end my worries for sure! But this is when the real question arises; which baby mat should I pick on?

What to Look for in a Baby Play Mat?

A baby playmat is a well-cushioned and protective layer to add to the floor so that the baby can play in an independent play area — Just what I needed! But knowing that a baby mat is a solution wasn't enough. I had to opt for a product that was best for my baby out of dozens of available options.

So, I started researching the internet retailers inside out, taking other mom's recommendations, and reading expert blogs. Phew! All of these exertions paid off by helping me to make the best choice for my toddler. Now, I'm sharing the essence of my research with you guys.

This purchase depends upon some basic but important factors. A few aspects that can cost you BIG if neglected while buying your baby's playmat. First off, the safety feature. Look for a playmat that is made with care.

Playmats are an easy object to come in direct physical and visual contact with your child. Hence, it should be manufactured with non-toxic materials so that your baby's safety is guaranteed. I'd suggest you go with certified products only in the safety domain.

Adding more to it, a baby mat must be big enough to give your kid ample space to play and wiggle. Always assess the width and length you need. Lastly, consider the maintenance requirements. The best feature in this regard is the washable and waterproof design.

Now, time for the reveal! I found all these and many more features summing up in one product. The Soft Foam Baby Play Mat by INEX Life.

Features: 7 Reasons to Say “YES” to Soft Foam Baby Mat

Stylish Appeal

The baby playmat’s light and calm color theme serve as an all-rounder. It is perfect for your baby as well as a classic addition to your interior. Whether it's your drawing room, daycare, verandah, or even your study, this playmat blends in smoothly. It’s stylish and functional both at the same time!

The fact that the color palette is gender-neutral is a breath of fresh air for us parents.

This mat splashes soothing vibes for the baby and anyone looking at it. Its modern and neat appeal makes this mat a statement piece for your home or as a gift for your lovable's baby shower.

Highly Durable

Do you have some lovely creatures apart from your squishy baby at your place? Don't get confused! I'm talking about pets: a dog or a cat. The reason I'm asking you this question is that most pets love to crawl and play on a baby mat for its soft base.

Disclaimer: This is when the playmat suffers from damage. But unlike any other mat, Soft Foam Baby Play Mat is extremely durable and of high-end quality against those pointy paws of your BIG dog. It doesn't peel off like cheaper floor mats. You can spend a lively and worry-free time with both your child and pet on the mat.

Careful Manufacturing

Everything that your baby comes in contact with needs to be safe, and a playmat is the first thing you can think of. INEX Life knows the nerve of us mommies and has designed this playmat with utter care and love.

There is no BPA, phthalates, formaldehyde, Lead, or PVC here, which means that the playmat is perfect for your toddler's sensitive skin. Furthermore, the material used in the manufacturing of this mat is hypoallergenic, non-flammable, and non-toxic.

A great combo of quality and safety! All of these safety precautions are taken by the brand so that you can rest assured about your child's safety and protection.

Great Thickness

Soft Foam Baby Play Mat features 7-inch thick and soft cushioning that forms a protective play spot for your child. Whether it's your low-pile carpet, hardwood tile, or concrete, this cushy baby mat effortlessly covers the surface to protect the baby from any bumps and falls. Moreover, our floor is usually covered with dirt, dust, debris, and countless unseen germs. Using this play mat ensures that your child is protected from coming into contact with any harmful object. — All thanks to its great thickness that lasts the comfort for your child.

Easy Maintenance

Easy maintenance is what saves us from exertion. Hence, it stands as my favorite feature in any product. The Soft Foam Baby Play Mat wins in this department too. The PVA Foam baby mat is not entirely waterproof and water-resistant. No more worries if the milk spills, food falls, or anything worse happens (moms sure know what I mean).

This durable and soft mat stands strong against such messes. Furthermore, it is super easy to clean. You can wipe right up when needed using a gentle scrub, damp cloth or soft sponge with a mild soap and water solution. Lastly, air dry the mat to finish the easy peasy cleaning job. The fact that they offer free product warranty will take you over the moon.

Creative Design

This playmat is way more than just flooring. The baby mat comes with 36 soft interlocking tiles to discover fun configurations for your baby. You can either lay all the tiles flat for tummy time and crawl or set up the walls (one side or two sides) to prevent the toys from roaming; exclusively functional, you see.

Not to forget the thoughtful inclusion of images, shapes, and patterns on the mat for hand-eye coordination. The design is super creative to engage the toddlers in a fun learning environment. Reasoning, animal and color recognition, spatial awareness, visual sensory development — Playtime has never been this productive before.

Size and Storage

The Soft Foam Baby Play Mat offers plenty of space with dimensions of 20 x 13 x 13 inches. It is a lightweight and portable product. All three of us: I, my nestling, and my pet dog, easily adjust on the mat and enjoy our comfortable playtime.

As far as the storage is concerned, you need not worry about it either. Even though the mat blends nicely with your interior, you can always wrap it up if you want and store it with ease. It literally turns into a book-sized packet, tiles above tiles.

What Makes "Soft Foam Baby Play Mat" Stand Out?

Apart from so many features to look up to, there is something more to make you Wow! The brand INEX Life offers value along with the baby playmat to set the cherry on the top.

Added Protection With a Fence

Soft Foam Baby Play Mat is covered with a fence to act as a protective boundary for your child. The foam walls are pretty sturdy and lock the baby inside and keep him safe and sound even when no one is around to look after him. However, the constant back and forth application of force to the wall may cause one tile to separate but doesn't cause the whole wall to collapse.

Easy To Assemble

This mat is a set of 36 foam floor tiles that joins up to create an amazingly comfortable surface area for the baby. Assembling these tiles is pretty easy to ensure optimal convenience for the parents. It barely takes 5 minutes of your time to join the complete mat. Besides, it's a fun job as if you're solving a jigsaw puzzle, so cheers to that!

Refund Policy

I've been saving this surprise for a long time. Yes! You get a refund if you're not happy with the product (which is a low probability). The brand INEX Life has proved its customer value statement true. No matter the reason, you can simply get your money back if you don't love the mat just yet. And that also, with no questions asked! Seriously, who does that today? No one!

Ratings and Testimonials by Other Super Moms

If you'd like to listen to the reviews of other moms, then worry not. I've compiled a review summary for you too. Now believe I'm a super mommy? So let's begin.

Starting from the customer reviews on Amazon from all around the world, Soft Foam Baby Play Mat wears the pride of 4.6 ratings. Adding to this, 76% of moms have given a 5 star to this mat for its remarkable features. The most cherished aspects include its thick cushioning, durability, comfort, and easy assembly.

However, it doesn't mean that there is no negative feedback, but their ratio is barely 1-3%. Apart from Amazon, any other retailer website is loaded with positive reviews for Soft Foam Baby Play Mat.

Bottom Line

Being a mom of a super-active child, my sole concern was to keep my baby safe while providing him with a fun learning environment. With Soft Foam Baby Play Mat, all my problems are solved, and worries are long gone.

The cushiony thickness is just right to make the surface comfortable. The gender-neutral shades with exciting patterns and icons are yet another boon. The playmat is expandable to fit a room of any size and as simple as pie to keep it clean and tidy. Not only that, but the tile walls keep the toys and your unrested child from roaming.

But above all, the non-toxic material usage and its certified verification end all your concerns so that you can confidently entrust your toddler with the product. With all these benefits, I can confidently say that Soft Foam Baby Play Mat is every bit worth the money.
