

The 10 Minute Read that will Help to Clean your Bathroom Effectively

Cleaning your bathroom isn't easy. It's quite hard. Which is why most of the people struggle to clean and disinfect their toilet at the same time irrespective of the tactics they use.

Sound like you? Then, you are in the right place.

This article will not lead you towards a various way to clean your bathroom. Instead, we will tell you handful steps to deep clean your bathroom. In turn, it will help to maintain the hygiene while protecting from germs.

Why cleaning your bathroom is important?

According to Doctors and hygiene specialists, a clean bathroom can affect the health of the aging adults and for the housebound ones. However, your toilet needs cleaning for hygiene reasons as you don't want germs that will spread through out your home. Additionally, an uncleaned bathroom may smell bad. To eliminate the same, you should deep clean your bathroom.

Safe and effective ways to clean your bathroom

You may have cleaned your bathroom floor with a simple floor disinfectant, while the other portion of the toilet remains untouched. To be precise, the proliferation of germs cannot be stopped if you don't deep clean your bathroom. Here are the ways-

1.Clean the shower curtain

You can put your plastic shower curtains on your washing machine to wash the same. Use regular detergent to scrub away the regular dirt. Once the wash is complete, hang the curtains to dry.

For the shower doors, you can make a paste of vinegar and baking soda. Now, apply the same directly to the door. Leave it for an hour and then rub it with microfiber cloth. Rinse and dry the same with a microfiber cloth again.

2.Descale your shower head

Pour white vinegar on a plastic grocery bag, so that it can submerge the shower head nozzle. Place it for overnight soaking. Remove the same in the morning and run the water to rinse. The shower heads may harbor bacteria, which can lead to various types of diseases. Therefore, cleaning your shower-head will help you get rid of those germs.

3.Clean bathroom walls, ceilings and countertops

Spray an all-purpose cleaner to the counter-tops, walls and ceilings and then turn on the shower. Wait until the steam builds. Now, turn off the water and shut the door. Let the cleaner and steam mix for 30 minutes. Use Tilswall electric spin scrubber to clean the side walls and counter-tops. You can also use dry micro-fiber mops to reach high spots.

You can apply car wax coat to minimize water ceramic tile's water marks. Mildew-resistant paint may also help to eliminate water marks from the walls.

4. Give a tidy look to dingy grout

To clean your grout, you can use the electric spin scrubber. Dip it on a cleaning solution and scrub the discolored areas. Make sure to ventilate the room. You can also seal the grouts every six months to prevent grime and moisture from infiltrating.

5. Clean the bathroom sink

At first, pour white vinegar down the drain and flush to drain the same. You can use disposable disinfecting wipes which will help to reduce bacteria. As the sink drain contains highest number of bacteria, you should clean the bathroom sink once in a week. Don't forget to clean the faucet handles too.

6. Clean toilet seat

Take a bowl and pour a cup of baking soda into it. Let it be for few minutes. Then use electric spin scrubber to remove dirt. Flush after rubbing for few minutes. However, if you see the spots after rigorous washing, you can repeat the process. Make sure you are cleaning your toilet seat once in a week, as most of the germs linger on the toilet seat.

7. Check your bathroom vent

Flip the circuit breaker. Now, remove the cover and soak the same with warm water and dish soap. You can use the vacuum cleaner to clean the grime from the fan blades. You can also wipe it off with a damp cloth.

Clean off the bathroom vent helps to reduce the mold and the other airborne particles that may linger on the vent and the blades.
