

Subject Line: PharmD Class of 2025 Updates: Roadmap to PharmaSCy

MONDAY, APRIL 5, 2021

Hi {{First Name}},

I hope that you're doing well and staying safe. As you know, this has been a season of great transition. We've all been faced with unexpected changes that have altered many aspects of everyday life. In the midst of it all, it has been inspiring to witness how future pharmacy students like you have risen to challenges that have come your way. I can only imagine how difficult it was to apply to and interview for pharmacy school in the middle of a pandemic, but you pushed through! Now, all of your determination and perseverance have paid off—you're officially a part of the Trojan Family!

This means that you're now at the cusp of yet another transition, from incoming student to student pharmacist. It is the job of the Office of Enrollment & Student Affairs team to make this transition as smooth as possible for you. To do so, this Friday, we'll launch a process called the Roadmap to PharmaSCy. To prepare for pharmacy school, you'll need to complete multiple tasks, like applying for the intern pharmacist license, ordering your white coat, and finalizing housing plans. Just as the name suggests, the Roadmap to PharmaSCy process will help you to navigate these tasks as you make your way to pharmacy school. This Friday, we'll send a more detailed email that will include:

- further information on the Roadmap to PharmaSCy process;
- access to your all-new personalized microsite, which will hold vital information to prepare you for the fall;
- details on our first virtual incoming student office hours (Wednesday, April 14—save the date!); and
- a special video message from Dr. Kari Franson, Associate Dean for Academic & Student Affairs.

As you await more information, don't hesitate to email me with any questions or concerns.

Fight On!
