

Pastor Quincy D. Griffin and Hollywood Actress Markeshia L. Gorden to Produce Comedic Drama, Me Against the World, in Tallahassee in April

Tallahassee, FL – For Immediate Release: March 19, 2019

Love can turn into lies and betrayal quicker than you think, and Pastor Quincy D. Griffin's comedic drama, Me Against the World, reveals exactly how.

After 2015's record-breaking inaugural production, Fire Dove Productions in association with MLG Productions is proud to announce the return of Me Against the World, set to premiere in Lee Hall Auditorium on April 5, 2019, at 8:00 PM. The stage-play tells the story of a woman who loses faith in her marriage and strongly suspects that her husband is having an affair. Sadly, it is not only her husband she doesn't trust, but she resolves that everyone around her has a hidden agenda. However, it is revealed that the forces working against her are closer to home than she thinks.

So, why are marriage and household issues the central theme of this play? It is based on the purpose of the production itself: to educate society and the Christian community about the importance of mental health. MATW aims to break the stigma of counseling and therapy while bringing laughter and healing to the soul. More importantly, the production introduces practical solutions on the spot.

MATW Playwright Quincy D. Griffin is the pastor of Family Worship and Praise Center in Tallahassee. The production is directed by Markeshia L. Gorden, Hollywood actress and Master of Fine Arts. MATW also features a cast of professional actors, including viral sensation and award-winning recording artist, Star Swain.

Tickets range from $10 to $30 and discounts are available for groups of six or more. Doors open at 7:00 PM, the VIP pre-show begins at 7:30 PM, and show time is at 8:00 PM.
