

Letter of Recommendation

To whom it may concern,

Cassidy is a wonderful student and one of the most hardworking girls I know. She has attended Cypress Falls High School in Houston, TX where she received the Magna Cum Laude honor at her graduation. She has always been a well-behaved student and got the best grades in her courses. During her time in high school, she served as captain of her color guard team for two years. There, she managed over 60 girls in their day-to-day practices and competitions. Overseeing such many girls was extremely challenging for a sixteen-year-old girl. Not only did she manage them, but she also led the practices and perfected the routine they were working on. Her instructor put a lot of trust into Cassidy and even had her gather the girls for important announcements as well as make sure everyone was picture perfect for each football game and contest. This was an all-year sport and Cassidy was very good at managing her time through this sport while going to school and her senior year she even got a job. Once she got to college Cassidy decided that she wanted to join a sorority. After her initiation in the fall, she noticed that she was missing that leadership position she had in high school and she did not feel as involved in the program by just being a member. She ran for treasurer of her sorority in the early spring semester, and she got the position. Transitioning from high school to college during the pandemic has been hard for all freshmen this year, but Cassidy excelled and not only does well in school, but she also has her sorority title and still works a job. Cassidy would be great for this position due to her great time management and hard work.

Sincerely,

Beverly Gunderson
