

16 Galvanizing quotes on Failure

Today's society celebrates success ignoring the elements that made a person successful which include setbacks, dedication, failure, time & talent, trial. People tend to believe that failure is a big mistake. Additionally, we have learned failure is not a part of the journey towards success. However, failure is inevitable. It is very easy to celebrate victories but to overcome failures and then rise to victories is a very difficult task.

We witness documentaries in which success stories are vaguely stated, like, success comes after one failure. However, in reality, we face multiple failures, then comes success. When you will tell your success story, all you will count is failures and one success moment. Now you know that it counts

Everybody is eager to prove but they neglect to take the main steps. Sometimes we fail because we rush or do not follow steps in a specific order. Then you learn from this mistake that order matters. Victories don't indicate the end of failures, there is always a scope of improvement and we fail at every phase of life.

Failure is a part of the process. A person who has failed many times is much more experienced rather than a person who has not seen difficult times or faced harsh situations or harsh realities. If you want to know the value of money ask someone poor, similarly the value of victory is much more to a person who has been through a lot of failures in life. Nobody wishes to fail, but it does not guarantee it won't happen. If it happens then learn to embrace failure rather than fearing it.

We are surrounded by looming achievements whether it is detailed success stories on social media or families. We assume that just because you have failed, you are a failure. Failures are not necessarily a part of achievements, Sometimes failures guide us to a different path in life that is more suitable for us, according to our skills and capabilities.

Victories don't indicate the end of failures, there is always the scope of improvement and we fail at every phase of life. It's true that failures teach us a lot about our mistakes and also teach us the value of time and not taking achievements for granted. Failures give us experience and scope to improve, to battle with ourselves. Here are some awakening quotes about failure and to help you to adopt failure.

1. "Failure is your alter ego, pick up the pistol and shoot it in the head."

Failure is the second version of oneself. This is essential to become the best version of yourself by lacing up your shoes and hitting the pavement.

2. "Failure is an instrument to find ways that won't work."

This quote is important for those of us who feel downtrodden after every failure. True failures are those who do not learn offered lessons via failures. Failures make us reconsider strategies and find ways to achieve the end goal

3. “Failure is not a friend, it is just an enemy whom you need to beat in order to win every time”

If you let failure get to your head then you are wasting your chances to bounce back. We tend to think successful people are lucky as it falls into their laps. But, the truth is: everyone has failed multiple times as failures are inevitable. People who refuse to get up and embrace it, are definitely not warriors.

4. “Never get tired of falling, the more you fall the stronger you get, the greater your magnitude of victory is.”

We learn more from our failures than successes. It emboldens us for the inevitable challenges ahead and gives us the ability to think in every perspective of life while keeping the final goal in mind.

5. “A man who always succeeds will never get the real taste of success unless failed.”

Throw failures you will get to know more about yourself in order to keep you from brainstorming fears of failures. It is life's ultimate lesson.

6. "Failing is a crust in people's success"

Failure is the basis of people's success in their life. The crust lays the foundation upon which all successes are built. Without failure, we'd simply be left with unexamined ways, unlearned lessons, and undetermined strategies.

7. "A raw stone until sculpted to its finest looks like a failure."

Failures are the hammer and the tools which sculpt us into the best version of ourselves. And the best version is the final statue.

8. "Stop defending your failures, your success is going to do this for you."

Everybody falls, you are just like the other majority of people. But, how you choose to tackle the situation and come up with ways, makes a difference.

9. “According to Newton’s first law of motion, a body at rest or uniform motion will continue to be at rest or uniform motion until and unless a net external force acts on it. In this law, you are a body which is at rest until and unless a force of motivation to stop failing acts on it.”

Failure motivates and forces us to work harder for the next time. Thus, they act as an external force that keeps on motivating us to increase the momentum of the work we are doing to get better results.

10. “A Successful person carries failure in their veins.”

Veins carry blood, and failure makes us strong, we bleed and we grow.

11. “Winning in life is the most beautiful view as the summit of Mount Everest, the failures are the struggles and problems you face to reach there.”

Most beautiful views require the hardest climb, in order to achieve that we must work hard and face the hard climbs.

12. “Failure is exploring unexplored parts of you.”

Failures tell you where you are lacking, weaknesses, and that is the part which you have not explored in yourself. Therefore, you can strengthen those weaknesses by exploring them.

13. “Failure is the story of your past and a flashback of your success”

Failures are part of your story. They are every part of the step that you take to reach the top. Each staircase is a failure until you reach the top.

14. “Failure is just a standard for improvement until you reach half of fame.”

Learning does not happen when it is easy, it happens when it becomes tough and you find a way to improve yourself.

15. “Fail, but never accept failure.”

You do not get through an easy path to become a smarter person.
Challenges make us better.

16. “Your success is a throne at a height, piled up above your bundle of failures.”

The throne of the king is always above all. Every stair climbed had stones (setbacks, disappointment, failures, etc). Failure is an important part of the past and journey. The throne is a final destination.

It’s always ok to fail and to learn from failures but never should we accept defeat and stop hustling.

Frequently Asked Questions

1. What is the fear of failure?

- It is maybe another part of anxiety disorder, mental disorder, or irrational fear of failing.

2. Why does failure demotivate?
 - At some point at the moment, people accept failure and stop working harder.
3. Why don't people learn from failure?
 - People accept failure and do not strengthen themselves mentally to improve.
4. Why does failure lead to drastic improvement?
 - Sometimes, people learn from failure very quickly and thus, change the method of action which leads to extraordinary results.
5. How do different types of people react to failure?
 - Some people get demotivated.
 - Some people accept failure and live with it.
 - Some people take it as a challenge and work harder & achieve.
6. Does failure distort the flow of work?
 - Sometimes. As people get demotivated, the flow gets broken and the person does not achieve the desired goal.