1. SMOKE MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

Smoke management is one of the major areas that need to be focused on and dealt with extra precaution. And work should be done only after studying the internal compartments of a building.

Al Assala has been working in the field for 18 years and has served more than hundreds of clients in the UAE and abroad. With our expertise and talented team, setting up a Smoke Management System will be a piece of cake!

Over the years, as we slowly established ourselves in the domain of Smoke Management System, we have developed our system and incorporated new techniques for better results. We have done experiments and tried many changes in order to ensure that only the best reaches our customers. Some of the most important services that we offer in the area are stairway pressurization, natural ventilation, building pressurization, and many more. A major focus will be given to those areas that are likely to cause the most damage in case of an accident. Moreover, for tricky spaces like stairways and constrained spaces, we will use our special technology to suck the smoke and dispose it off safely.

We never compromise in terms of the quality of our products or service. You can expect a clean and prompt association with us. Models used will be sophisticated and apt for the needs of each area. We will ensure that there would be no loophole in the system, thereby ensuring complete safety.

We believe in client satisfaction and therefore we will give the client complete freedom in deciding key elements. Yet, we will make sure that after proper study of the subject of work, our suggestions are conveyed to the client for mutual understanding and better results.

2. VENTILATION WORKS

Who would not want to breathe fresh air? And this goes the same whether you are outside or inside the building. But it becomes a lot harder to get a whiff of soothing air if you are in an office building or a mall. Well worry not; we are here with the exact solution to your problems. With 18 years of experience in the field of installations, we have the expertise and knowledge that can guarantee you a proper ventilation system for your building.

Ventilation for any building is unequivocally a necessity. A neatly ventilated room can have its aura and beauty to it. This coupled with few other factors such as the need for a healthy atmosphere, proper sunlight and an unhindered path for air to travel makes ventilation a priority for any building. A lack of any of these elements cannot give you the satisfaction of a perfectly built construction. Moreover, with the world finding it hard to survive with people being extra careful with their health, ventilation becomes necessary when you start a business anywhere.

We provide top-notch services in the field. We aim to give you the feeling that you would get if you are outside breathing the morning air. With our perfect installation, you can have this feeling throughout the day. With our primary focus to bring fresh natural air inside the otherwise dingy rooms, you can see how easily the change will brighten up the area. Exhaust ventilation, supply ventilation, balanced ventilation...You name the kind and we have it. Our team is equipped to listen to your needs and serve you exactly what you ask for. You are free to give your suggestions during and after the process. We promise you an outstanding service.

3. DUCT FABRICATION

Al Assala has been providing Duct Fabrication services for almost two decades in the UAE. With time and experience, we have made our mark in the field. We have specialized in all kinds of duct fabrication services and you won't regret choosing us for the same reason. Once the work is assigned, we will deal with the entire process from installation to service. With our adept and agile team, the installation of ducts is no more a time taking process.

Big buildings cannot do without a proper system of ducts for smooth ventilation and working of businesses. There are two major kinds of ducts and we provide both.

GI – GI or Galvanized Iron ducts are the best quality ducts available. These ducts are reliable and robust. The elements that constitute the body make these stronger than their counterparts. They are tough and designed with innovative techniques. Due to these reasons, GI ducts are long-lasting and you would not have to worry about their maintenance once they are installed. Hence, demand for GI has been growing and continues to grow in the Middle East.

PI – PI or Pre Insulated Ducts are installed as part of the air conditioning system. From the name you can understand how they are different from GI. PI ducts are already insulated with aluminium sheets on the outside thereby preventing heat transfer. On a quality basis, these take a level lower than GI ducts. However, PI ducts have their advantages. These are lightweight and easy to be repaired. Moreover, PI ducts can add an aesthetic look to your place.

Duct fabrication is cost-effective and with our prices, you won't need to have a second thought. If you get to know our quality duct solutions, you would never go for another option. We promise to meet your expectations. Choose us and get a taste of our impeccable service!

4. AIR CONDITIONING SERVICES

As promised we bring you a comprehensive package for that much-needed relief from scorching heat through our Air conditioning services. Our Air Conditioning Works comprises six choices. They are:

1. Chiller AC: We provide two types of Chiller AC installation for you: Water Cooled and Air Cooled. Chiller AC is the best choice if you are looking for a trouble-free cooling system. These are suitable for large buildings and can give you the feeling of cooling combined with safety. Water Cooled Chiller works by the refrigerating water and is most suitable for that chilled effect inside the building while Air-cooled chillers work best for your car parking lot or ground floor of your multi-storeyed skyscraper.

2. VRF : These are the cooling systems that you want to choose if you go for simplicity. The VRF system comes in handy when ductwork becomes impossible. With our adept installation team, setting up VRF for your building can happen in no time. A major advantage of the VRF system is that you can have a multi-functional cooling system. Thus, the temperature can vary from one area of the building to another at the same time.

3. Package Unit: Al Assala believes in giving our clients services that are most compatible with their requirements. We recommend package unit ACs for those who are looking for space efficient AC system. As the title suggests these come in a package and therefore you do not have to bother finding separate space for indoor and outdoor units. These can be very useful if you are planning to save space in your store or want to have that good space for your shelf that can be taken up by the conventional AC units.

4. DX unit: We also provide installation DX units for Air Conditioning. These are the most attractive choices among the six as they are flexible and can be expanded as and when you are expanding your building. They are cost-effective and can provide you with the comfort that you long for in hot summer days. Without burning a hole in your pocket, these units can help you feel the luxury.

5. Cold room: Al Assala caters to all kinds of businesses. As hotels and restaurants are popping up, cold rooms are one of the most in-demand services. We guarantee excellent working units with power and quality. We are efficient and professional and our 18 years of experience have made us a pioneer in providing this service. We take special care in the arrangement of the entire unit with ultra precision.
