

90's R&B music never died and these current R&B artist will give you nostalgia

Via @markpeaced via Instagram

90's R&B music is forever golden and can't be touched. Growing up a 90's baby and now in my late 20's, 90's R&B is still my favorite type.

The nostalgia is at its all-time high and always great to relive memory lane. Many songs currently have a heavy 90's R&B influence. You are in luck because the following artist and songs bring back the essence and the sounds of the 90's R&B but with a modern twist.

Picture via : Facebook

Sonder

All it takes is a group to appear and bring the 90's vibes back, and Sonder, the R&B trio made of Brent Faiyaz, Atu and Dpat, is making this come true. This trio currently has an EP out called "Intro" and is making noise. "Intro" is a sultry and soulful mix that will have you in your feelings. If "Intro" is any sign, Sonder has a bright. They will be going on tour starting September. Get your tickets and catch these guys live.

Listen to EP: Intro

Recommended songs: Too Fast, Lovely , and Care.

Picture via : Facebook

HER

H.E.R is an acronym for Having Everything Revealed. When she came onto the scene, H.E.R's mysterious silhouette made us wonder who is behind this seductive voice. The singer behind the profile is Gabi Wilson. H.E.R produces music with heavy beats over a strong vocal atmosphere, which gives her songs that 90's old school feel. The sultry singer currently has two EP's out, "H.E.R Vol. 1 and Vol. 2." She is hitting concert venues late summer with Bryson Tiller.

Listen to: H.E.R Vol 1 and 2

Recommended songs: Losing, Jungle, Still Down and I Won't.

DVSN

OVO Sound is known to produce good talent, and that can be said about Dvsn. It's a duo composed of Daniel Daley and Nineteen85. They toured alongside Drake last summer and Daniel got to showcase his R&B- esque vocals. The duo's album "September 5" made noise when it dropped in 2016. For R&B fans, dvsn brings warmth and peaceful gospel harmonies when it comes to the vocals. At the same time mixing electronic beats and smooth guitar riffs mixed with the confident falsetto coming from Daniel Daley. Currently, the duo is working on their album "Morning After".

Listen to: September 5,

Recommended songs: Hallucinations, With Me and Too Deep.

Ella Mai

London's own Ella Mai got discovered by DJ Mustard and is the voice you must listen to. The British singer showcases a sweet and soulful edge to her performances. Her music has a Rihanna vibe, but Ella Mai brings her personality. She has a trilogy of Ep's "Time," "Change" and "Ready," which was released earlier this year. Ella Mai's voice is a step forward in the R&B scene, especially with a slow tempo and smooth vocals. She promises to work on her debut album after getting back from touring with Kehlani.

Listen to: Time, Chang and Ready Ep's

Recommended Songs: Down, 10,000 Hours, Anymore and Switch Sider