

Developed and owned by The Domain Companies and slated for occupancy late this year, The Preserve, The Crescent Club and The Meridian are ideally situated in the popular Mid-City neighborhood along the increasingly revitalized Tulane Avenue corridor, just minutes away from downtown New Orleans and easily accessible from all parts of the metropolitan area.

The Preserve, The Crescent Club and The Meridian will provide nearly 500 apartments designed for young professionals, medical students and employees of the downtown office and service sectors. Each property is within close proximity to great local dining spots, shops, music venues and recreation facilities. The properties will redefine first-class rental housing in New Orleans with every imaginable amenity including covered parking, pools, luxury kitchens, clubhouses, fully equipped computer centers, wireless Internet, exercise facilities, on-site management offices and green construction. The buildings will also feature eclectic art and décor by local artists and designers.

In addition to its three major apartment complexes, Domain has purchased for renovation and resale dozens of single and multi-family homes and several retail developments, helping to make Mid-City and the Tulane Avenue corridor an ideal setting to live, work and play.

English Turn is a 650-acre master-planned golfing community located just eight miles from downtown New Orleans. English Turn features a world class Country Club facility including a championship Jack Nicklaus designed golf course, junior Olympic-sized swimming pool, six Rubico clay tennis courts and tennis pavilion, complete fitness center, as well as upscale and casual dining. The 43,000-square-foot plantation style clubhouse is the focal point for the highly prestigious residential community. The 24-hour manned gatehouses limit access to the community, complete with private streets, elegant residences and homesites, winding waterways and lagoons, and numerous parks and walking trails. English Turn's available homesites range in size from one-fifth acre to over two acres in size. English Turn's residents enjoy many community and social activities, from the Kids Club, Sharks Swim Team, Garden Club and many more. Two limousine school buses are available to take children to many East and West Bank schools.

With an almost 45 percent reduction housing inventory drop compared to housing inventory post-Katrina, along with the recent reduction by Orleans Parish of property taxes by 27 percent, declining mortgage rates and increased availability of homeowners insurance, buying a luxury home like those at English Turn is even easier.
