Did you miss last month's FILL YOUR TANK event? We have you covered! We've created a recap of all the helpful advice shared by our guest speaker, Courtney Thurston-Del Buono. She talked about scholarships, job hunting, negotiating your first job, and more.

And don't forget to sign up for the May 19 Fill YOUR TANK. That's next Wednesday 🖱️ <https://lnkd.in/gPgwieh>

Courtney's tips (which you WILL want!) are a bit too long for a LinkedIn post, so there are a couple ways to read it. See the PDF attached here or view it online at this link 🖱️ <https://bit.ly/3fflZrN>

Courtney Thurston-Del Buono was the guest speaker for our April Fill Your Tank event. She shared excellent advice about scholarships, grades, how to negotiate your first job offer, and more. Courtney graduated in 2019 with a B.S. in Computer Science and a second major in Computational Mathematics from Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University. She now works as a software engineer on Microsoft's Azure Stream Analytics.

While she was a student, Courtney won "half a million dollars in scholarships." She now spends her free time helping women and under-served students navigate this process. Her insights are road-tested!
