| | Pre-Grad Courses | Keen, industrious and full of fresh ideas, students make terrific employees. What they seek are real work experiences, so they can develop the proven skills and mindsets to make the leap from final semester to first gig. Our pre-grad program supports university and college students at all levels. Participants cultivate problem-solving and project execution skills, and also learn to communicate new ideas in ways that drive results. This program is all about gaining experience and making vital connections: online learning experience, work placements, in-class workshops, peer-to-peer support and guided tours of some of the top companies in the MaRS ecosystem. |
| | Early/Mid-Career Courses | Cultivating a fulfilling career is about constantly staying ahead of the curve, being open to all opportunities and always adding to your repertoire. Nimble and flexible, the most successful professionals embrace change and crave impactful work. Through tailored projects and team challenges, our early- and mid-career program focuses on cross-functional collaboration, adaptation and accountability - all must-haves at high-growth companies. Participants tackle real business problems related to disruption. They also get the extra kick of adding the MaRS brand to their portfolios while gaining access to community events and industry experts. |
| | Senior Leader Courses | Embrace Limitless Education Executives possess a wealth of knowledge and experience that all companies want and need. The key to sustained career success, though, is keeping that knowledge current with the latest trends, technologies, and leadership best practices. Our program for senior leaders helps executives in any sector stay up-to-date with the tech landscape. Participants sharpen their leadership skills through online exercises in change management, volatility, foresight, strategic thinking, and lean methodology. The program also offers in-person workshops, networking opportunities, and solutions tailored to participants' specific industry needs. |
