

Proly, Laporte, & Mulligan Are On Your Side

It is no secret that crime is abundant in our nation, but in the midst of the increase in crime, fair trials and legitimate defenses have gone by the way side. In a digital era where one can research and conclude ideas to formulate one's own defense, it is critical to rely on those with expertise in the field. Residents of New Port Richey, Florida should remember their rights and hire someone who will represent them to the utmost degree. If you or someone you know has been wrongfully injured or charged with a felony, you should seek a renowned criminal/personal injury law firm such as Proly, Laporte, & Mulligan.

The same team that can fight for your substantial reward for injury, pain, and suffering can also keep you from serving unnecessary time for being wrongfully charged for felonies, or crimes which are considered the most serious of criminal charges. Some of the most common felonies include, but are not limited to:

- 1.) Drug abuse
- 2.) Property crimes/theft
- 3.) Driving Under the Influence/Driving While Intoxicated (DUI/DWI)
- 4.) Rape
- 5.) Assault

The prison term for felonies is more severe than other crimes, such as misdemeanors, due to their nature. Proly, Laporte, & Mulligan represent each of the following levels of offenses and can keep you from serving unnecessary time and facing irrational charges:

First Degree: The individual who actually committed the crime.

Second Degree: Anyone who helped the criminal commit the crime.

Third Degree: Anyone who helped plan or knew of the crime prior to its execution.

Fourth Degree: Anyone who assisted the criminal following the crime's execution.

Before you decide not to hire the criminal/personal injury experts, please consider that some of the repercussions for those who are charged with a felony include losing the right to vote and future job opportunities, license revokal, and loss of the right to carry.

All of the above crimes, and more, are representable and defensible by the law offices of Proly, Laporte, & Mulligan. Keep yourself above the law and contact their New Port Richey, Florida office today.
