"It's not about what it is, it's about what it can become." Dr. Seuss, The Lorax.

Right here in Lackawanna County
25 years ago, Lackawanna Heritage Valley was established!

The mission of Lackawanna Heritage Valley has always boiled down to improving the quality of life for our region. That is why I started this letter with a quote from one of my favorite childhood authors, Dr. Seuss. He takes a simplistic concept and uses it to convey a life lesson that helps to keep us grounded. I think it really applies to Lackawanna Heritage Valley in 2016 as we celebrate our 25th Anniversary. For it is not about what the Heritage Valley was in 1991, in 2001, in 2011 or even what it is at this moment. Rather, it is all the accomplishments along the way - all the progress; all the miles of the Lackawanna River Heritage Trail that have been completed; and all the growth we will experience in the future. I am truly excited and honored to serve on a Board and work with LHV Staff who are all so positively driven and so forward thinking.

We must keep in mind the great importance of the beginning of our organization; those who made it possible at its inception; and those who continue to fulfill its mission to this day. Lackawanna Heritage Valley was the first heritage park in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and it started right here in our own backyard - a testament to the fiery spirit that is prevalent in Lackawanna County. We can never forget where we came from, or who we came from, because all of that drives us forward to make our home the best it can possibly be.

In 2015, there were several exciting accomplishments in the heritage area, including the launch of BikeScranton, our free bike share program, and the development of the Nay Aug Avenue Natural Play Area in lower Green Ridge. Three crucial easements were granted by the DeNaples family that will enable us to fill in major trail gaps in Scranton, Dickson City and Carbondale Township. This gift will aid in achieving LHV's goal of linking thirty communities from Pittston to Fell Township and north to the D&H Rail-Trail and the New York State border.

Many exciting events and programs are in store for the 25th Anniversary of Lackawanna Heritage Valley, from the inaugural Heritage Explorer Golf Tournament presented by Munley Law at Pine Hills Country Club in June to our gala 25th Anniversary Celebration on the trail in September, and much more!

Without the generous support from residents and community volunteers in Lackawanna County, our Local, County, State and Federal officials, and the businesses and individuals who sponsor these events and programs and promote our mission, none of these wonderful things would be possible. The Lackawanna Heritage Valley relies on all of us to continue its journey and to survive as the keeper of our heritage and the catalyst enhancing the quality of life in the area. We are the storytellers, the dreamers, and the builders knowing that there is so much that LHV can become!

The Lackawanna Heritage Valley National and State Heritage Area

The Lackawanna Heritage Valley National and State Heritage Area (LHV) is a partnership of government, business, civic organizations, and individuals dedicated to the development of the region's historic, cultural, economic, and natural resources through preservation, education, and promotion of our heritage. LHV is managed by the Lackawanna Heritage Valley Authority (LHVA), a municipal authority of Lackawanna County. In 2007, Heritage Valley Partners, Inc. was created as the non-profit support entity to diversify funding and to attract additional public awareness to the mission and programs of the Lackawanna Heritage Valley. The mission of the Lackawanna Heritage Valley is to facilitate community action in the preservation, promotion and development of the region's history, cultural heritage, and natural resources. The goals of the Lackawanna Heritage Valley are to:

- Tell the region's story.
- Facilitate partnerships.
- Preserve and enhance the physical character and economic vitality of the communities in the Lackawanna Valley.
- Improve the visitor experience.
- Reconnect people and communities to the Lackawanna River.

National Heritage Areas

The Lackawanna Heritage Valley is one of forty-nine National Heritage Areas recognized by Congress for their important contributions to the American experience. In partnership with the National Park Service, LHV celebrates the nationally significant history of the Lackawanna Valley, preserving it for the benefit of current and future generations.

Pennsylvania Heritage Areas Program

The Lackawanna Heritage Valley was designated as Pennsylvania's first heritage area in April 1991. Administered by the Pennsylvania Department of Conservation and Natural Resources, the Pennsylvania Heritage Areas Program provides a catalyst for diverse groups within a region to protect, preserve, develop, and promote its heritage and natural resources. There are twelve heritage areas in the Commonwealth.

New Projects

Pedal Power

In May 2015, Heritage Valley Partners and

Lackawanna Heritage Valley launched BikeScranton, a free bike share program. BikeScranton was made possible through a $15,000 grant from Northeastern Pennsylvania Healthcare Foundation.

The program enjoyed immediate success, with bicycles available at four locations: The Weinberg Library at The University of Scranton, Hilton Scranton & Conference Center, Cedar Bike & Paddle and Lackawanna Heritage Valley Headquarters. With a photo ID, adults age 18 and older may borrow a bicycle for a short time, or for an entire day for free! The program is popular with a wide variety of people, from local riders to tourists; from college students to senior citizens.

80% (538) of the bicycles were borrowed from The University of Scranton and the Hilton Scranton & Conference Center

63% (422) of the bicycles shared were used by people under the age of 30

52% (347) of the bikes were borrowed by Scranton residents

On average, there was a total of 5 shares per day over the course of 143 days, leading to 672 total shares

Railroads, Rivers and You!

In honor of the 100th anniversary of the National Park Service, the Every Kid in a Park initiative was launched in 2015. The program offers free admission for all fourth graders and their families to more than 2,000 federally managed land and water sites nationwide through August 31, 2016. Steamtown National Historic Site and Lackawanna

Heritage Valley participated in this program by creating Railroads, Rivers, and You! (RRY!). Students spend the morning at Steamtown learning about trains and the significance of the railroad industry in Northeastern Pennsylvania. After enjoying hands-on activities with park rangers, the students visit the Lackawanna River Heritage Trail where they are introduced to the Lackawanna River and the natural resources in their own backyard. This program is continuing through 2016.

Communing With Nature in the Heart of Scranton

The Nay Aug Avenue Natural Play Area in the Green Ridge section of Scranton opened on July 27, 2015. Located on Nay Aug Avenue, between Green Ridge Street and East Market Street, the park is situated on land adjacent to the levee of the Lackawanna River and the Lackawanna River Heritage Trail. The project began with a grant from the American Water Charitable Foundation, which led to generous donations from DCNR and other public and private entities. Designed by McLane Associates, the play area is built with natural and recycled materials. Funders and supporters include: American Water Charitable Foundation, PA Department of Conservation & Natural Resources (PA DCNR), The Harry and Jeanette Weinberg Foundation, Fidelity Deposit & Discount Bank, National Park Service (NPS), Lackawanna County, Willary Foundation, Margaret Briggs Foundation, Christopher & Dana Reeve Foundation, Pennsylvania Environmental Council (PEC), and the City of Scranton.

In November, officers of Fidelity Deposit & Discount Bank, community leaders and public officials celebrated the opening of the Fidelity Fishing Shack.

Funders, public officials and community leaders gathered at the play area for its official grand opening.

190 volunteers provided 885 service hours to build the Nay Aug Avenue Natural Play Area

As part of the Lowe's Hometown Heroes program, volunteers helped to landscape and beautify the Nay Aug Avenue Natural Play Area.

The design of the new trailhead park inspires creative play, and encourages children to unplug and commune with nature.

The AeroGlider was added to the play area in November. It can accommodate up to two individuals using wheelchairs. The Honorable Cindy Dunn, Secretary, Pennsylvania Department of Conservation & Natural Resources (PA DCNR); Keith Williams, Advocacy and Outreach Coordinator, and Christian Budney, both representing the Northeast Pennsylvania Center for Independent Living; and Michael Manganiello, Christopher and Dana Reeves Foundation, attended the ribbon cutting ceremony.

Paul Bechtel, an environmental scientist and landscape architect, helped design and build the Natural Play Area, including the simulated Beaver Dam shown here.

Economic Investment

Lackawanna Heritage Valley requires a dollar-for-dollar (1:1) match for all of its grant awards. Organizations bring additional matching funds to a project, building on LHV's initial investment. For example, when LHV awards $5,000 to a project that has a total project cost of $15,000, the leverage ratio is 1:3.

In 2015, LHV granted $17,420 to local organizations to support projects, programs and events. The total cost of 2015 partner projects was $295,562 creating a leveraging ratio of 1:17.

In 2015,
Lackawanna Heritage Valley expended $1,508,842
in total funding for 35 new and
ongoing initiatives.

Project Support

Lackawanna Heritage Valley funds projects that fulfill its mission and goals as outlined in the Plan for the Lackawanna Heritage Valley (1991), the LHV Management Plan Update (2001), and the Management Action Plan and Environmental Impact Study (2004). These projects stimulate the region's economic development, enhance tourism initiatives, strengthen the capacity of community organizations and increase the quality of life for area residents.

In 2015, Lackawanna Heritage Valley expended $1,508,842 in total funding for 35 new and ongoing initiatives. Of this, LHV awarded $17,420 through 24 grants to partner organizations.

LHV allocated $1,487,925 to support 11 Heritage Area projects. Of this, $1,426,563 funded the planning, development, improvement and maintenance of the Lackawanna River Heritage Trail. The total cost for all 35 projects, including matching funds raised by partners, was $1,883,487.

A Year in the Life of the Lackawanna River Heritage Trail

The Lackawanna River Heritage Trail (LRHT) flourished in 2015 with projects to improve the experience for trail users. Plenty of activities were held throughout the year. Highlights include:

Heritage Explorer Bike Tour & Festival:

In June, hundreds of bicyclists of all ages participated in the annual bike tour and festival at the Blakely Borough Recreation Complex. This family-friendly event featured four out-and-back routes along the trail, followed by a festival promoting health, wellness and outdoor recreation. In the fall, the bike tour won the Hometown Hero SAGE Award, presented by the Greater Scranton Chamber of Commerce.

Nay Aug Avenue Natural Play Area: The Heritage Valley celebrated the opening of Pennsylvania's first natural play area in July. The Nay Aug Avenue Natural Play Area is a new trailhead park located in the Green Ridge section of Scranton, adjacent to the Lackawanna River Heritage Trail and the levee of the Lackawanna River.

Mid Valley Section Paving Project: To help maintain optimal conditions for trail users in the Mid Valley, the section between Blakely and Archbald was paved in the fall. The new surface allows more people to enjoy this beautiful section of trail, including those using wheelchairs. It also enhances the experience for parents pushing strollers, and children riding tricycles or bikes with training wheels. In addition, the paved surface can be plowed following snow, allowing the trail to stay open year-round.

New Fishing Pier in Archbald: Lackawanna Heritage Valley (LHV) partnered with Aylesworth Creek Reservoir Park Authority to build the Nick Staback Veterans Fishing Pier at Archbald Borough Gravity Slope Recreation Park. The new fishing pier, which opened in November, is located near the Laurel Street Trailhead, at the southern end of Laurel Street in Archbald. Adjacent to the Lackawanna River Heritage Trail, the pier is ADA compliant, providing greater access and increased opportunities for fishing in this stretch of the Lackawanna River.

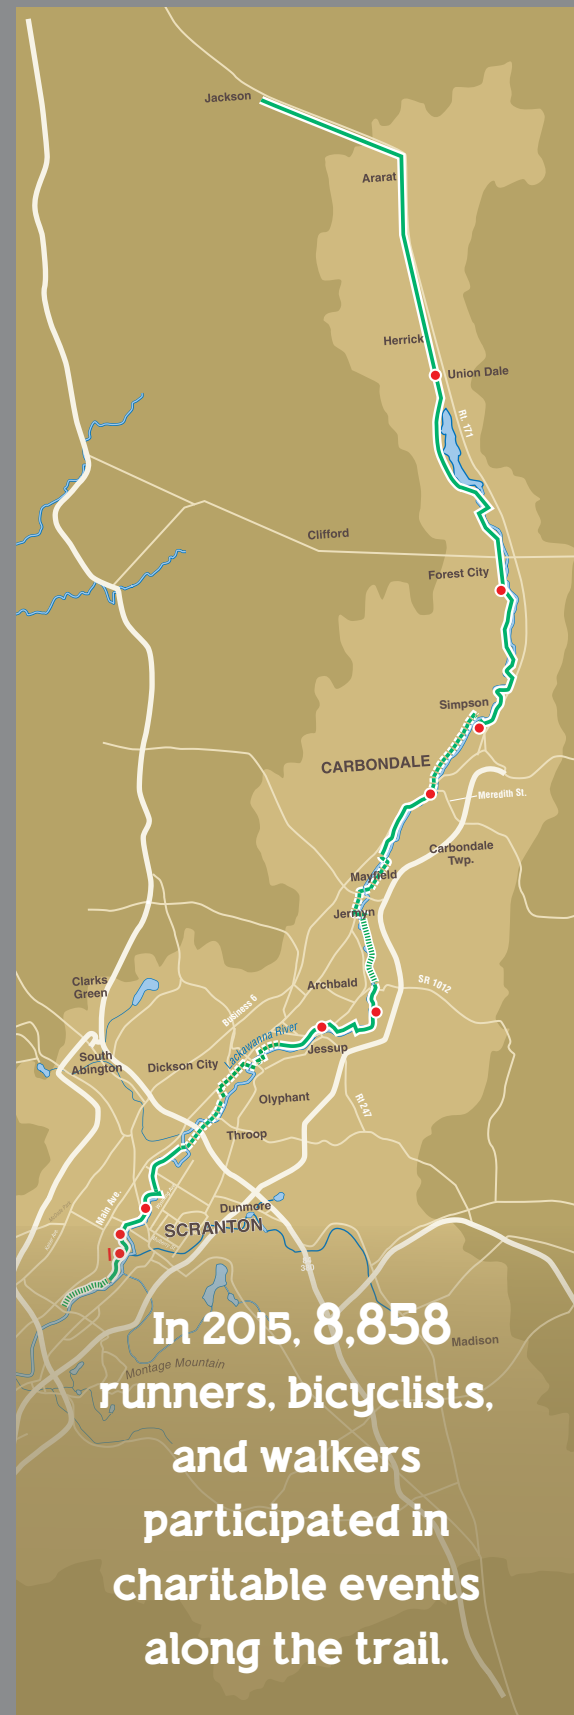

Interpretive Signs: Designed to share the story of the region's land, people and industry, the first group in a series of interpretive signs along the Lackawanna River Heritage Trail was installed along sections of trail between Archbald and Jermyon in the fall. The new signs aid in navigation of the trail system while providing information about the region's heritage.

S'mores Party on the Trail: In October, families enjoyed a special day along the CNJ Extension of the Trail in Taylor. The event featured music by Pat Quinn and the Heritage Trailblazers, Spooky Stories with Taylor Community Library, Pumpkin Painting, a Scarecrow-Making Party, and s'mores by the campfire. More than 200 children participated in the festivities.

Thousands of Charitable Steps Forward.

In addition to serving as a popular venue for running, walking and bicycling groups, the Lackawanna River Heritage Trail is utilized by dozens of non-profit and charitable organizations to host fundraising races and walks.

70 Miles of Trail.

In 2015, 8,858 runners, bicyclists, and walkers participated in charitable events along the trail.
