ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Gail Tolstoi-Miller is an award-winning entrepreneur, career coach, workforce strategist, speaker and CEO

She is a heavy metal rocker, soccer mom and avowed introvert who has won the war on reticence to become a successful dual CEO of Consultnetwork™, a consulting/staffing firm and Speednetwork™, a B2B speed networking event company. Gail also founded SpeedHIRE™ events, a one-of-a-kind, in-house recruiting solution.

Her companies are focused on connecting people for mutual fit and success, whether in the workforce or on a personal level. She credits her achievements--as well as the success of her clients and job candidates--to her mindful giving of care, compassion, and guidance in all of her dealings. In other words, she's living proof that the concept of Networking Karma works!

Gail's innovative business approach has singled her out as a resource in her field, sought after by many publications and outlets, including FOX Business, msn careers, Inc., ere.com and others, where she shares her insight on networking, recruiting and the job market. Gail's efforts have resulted in her receiving the NJBIZ Best 50 Women in Business 2013 award as well as the Diversity.com Top 2014 Business award. She was also named Leading Women Entrepreneur finalist, and recognized as a finalist by Enterprising Women of the Year 2013.
