SEPTEMBER 2015

Welcome to your new events newspaper...

Bringing you all the goings-on around the Houses for the next 30 days.

This month Soho House New York sees the opening of the Vinyl Room, its NYC loft-inspired events space (10 Sept). Over at Soho House West Hollywood, we are excited to have a Motown Records Takeover (Sept 6, 13, and 21). The folks behind the Polaris Music Prize are celebrating its 10th anniversary and joining them at Soho House Toronto is artist Patrick Hamou, who's created their special anniversary poster (Sept 9). Soho House Miami has workshops from artist-in-residence Elizabeth Huey (Sept 22, 24), followed by a costume pool party where Elizabeth will take photographs to use in her next painting (Sept 25). To round off the month, at Soho House Chicago couples are assembling their own mini robot, while a two-foot Omnibot serves cocktails and popcorn (Sept 30).

HOUSE HIGHLIGHT

Fragrance Lab: Scenthouse

Saturday September 12, 1pm

CJ Powers of SCENTHOUSE LA and perfumer Ashley Eden Kessler explore the art and science of fragrance in this hands-on session. We'll chat about the recent rise of "scent branding" and uncover some of the myths and truths of the fragrance industry. The main focus of the session will be a deconstruction of the Lily of the Valley accord into its individual aroma-molecules, and then you'll attempt to rebuild it, using your nose, through various trials.

SCENTHOUSE'S ONE MYTH OF THE FRAGRANCE INDUSTRY:

"That natural ingredients are somehow better than synthetics.
Some of the best aromas in existence were created in a lab."
