

Life is a Little Sweeter at Keahumoa Place

■ Oahu's Newest Neighbors

With a warm breeze blowing in from Mamala Bay, the azure sky above, and the earth of abundant growth beneath their feet, our residents can breathe in the sweet smells of Keahumoa Place and know that they've found home.

From the sugarcane fields that used to thrive on this land, to the residents who settle down to build their lives here, rich and plentiful growth is woven into the local identity.

A font of cultivation and a land of opportunity, Keahumoa Place provides our residents with resources and opportunities that change lives—changes that help our residents to discover new possibilities, to build thriving communities, and to grow into their best selves.

A paradise grown from the sweetest of sugarcane, Keahumoa Place promises to bring the same prosperity to those who plant their own roots here.
