

1. What are your personal ideas about the nature of the world and the universe?

- The nature of the world is part of our lives. This environment is where people started to develop the characteristics and attain achievements as an individual and part of the society. Furthermore, considering the beauty of the wonders of the solar system consists of the Sun, eight orbiting planets, moons, asteroids, comets, and meteoroids. I thought this would be the end of the concept of the "nature of the world and universe." But as time goes by, I gained knowledge through my parents, teachers, and friends that my conceptualization of the nature of the world and universe is not thoroughly enough. Then, I came up with my idea that supernatural belief (Creationism) and scientific theory (such as Darwinism, Big Bang theory, etc.) are sources of all existence of living things and heavenly bodies.

Finally, yet importantly, the Earth is the only planet in the solar system that supports life. Therefore, I, as a human being are very fortunate because Earth is exclusively suitable for life. With the help of plants and trees, oxygen has been made and maintained over billions of years.

2. What characteristics distinguish man from all other things that exist?

- Human beings have unique and different physical qualities and mental qualities. Firstly, humans have extraordinary brains. Humans are the most intelligent and advanced of the millions of living organisms on Earth. Our intelligence is notable for being self-aware and also competent in studying different subject matters. Secondly, humans' way of speaking that uses to deal with another individual. Every country or place has various languages. But, we only have one vision in it, which is to convey our message to the receiver. Through the utility of conversing with one another, we share ideas that create curiosity. In that curiosity, we invent and discover something that will help our society in a better way. Thirdly, the form of standing and walking of a person is different from other animals. Lastly, we have numerous clothes and accessories that we buy and wear. We will distinguish a person, how they dress up or attire in a particular place.
