PLACENTA DONATION
An Opportunity to Make a Difference

The Healing Power of Placenta.

The amniotic membrane of the placenta is commonly used to promote the healing process in wounds that are difficult to heal and injuries to soft tissue, such as burns, diabetic foot ulcers, venous leg ulcers and pressure ulcers. The tissue can also be used in certain eye, oral and spinal surgeries.

Donating is Simple, Free and Safe.

After childbirth, the placenta is discarded as waste. But there is another option – donating it to help someone else. Donating is simple, easy and free, without any risks to you or your baby. If you have a planned cesarean section, consider sharing your miracle to help those in need.

1. Talk to your physician about donation.
2. Give your consent.
3. Answer medical and social history questions.
4. A representative will collect the placenta after childbirth.

Trust Our Expertise.

Tides Medical's mission to provide products that speed healing and improve surgical outcomes begins with donations like yours. We understand and accept the responsibility placed on us with your gift, which is why we have created a subsidiary that focuses only on placenta donation, Louisiana Initiative for Transplant (L.I.F.T). The L.I.F.T. team is specially trained to use your gift for the miracle that it is, with the respect and appreciation it deserves.
