-Trigger: Interact with Mannes
===
Mannes:
- Hello, trainer! Welcome to <insert town name>! I am Mannes, the mayor of this town. I assume you've come for the upcoming festival, just like many others?
- Our townspeople have recently made a great discovery, so, in celebration, we are holding a special tournament where all capable trainers are welcome. Care to participate?
- Yes? Splendid! Well then, the tournament will begin shortly. I'm just waiting for Damon to show up, and he's being late, which is so unlike him…
- If you happen to come across him, could you please tell him I'm waiting for him? We can't start the event without him. He's the one to have made the discovery, after all.
- Thanks in advance for your help!

Sub 020:
-Location: Town Outskirts
-Trigger: Interact with Damon after Sub > 10
===
Damon:
- Oh, hello. I'm Damon. And who might you be?
- <Name>? Mannes has told you he's waiting for me? Yeah, I guess I completely lost track of the time…
- You see, this stone I found is no ordinary rock. It will help our region to flourish again, like in old times, now long forgotten.
- My mother's dream was to see our town in its former glory, and now, I've finally gained a chance to make her dream come true...
- Oh, I'm sorry - you're probably in a hurry, and here I am lost in my musings! I can't keep Mannes waiting forever either. I'll be off downtown.
- The tournament will start soon. You can come watch it if you want!

Sub 030:
-Location: Christmas Event Town
-Trigger: Approach Mannes and Damon when Sub > 20
===
Mannes:
- People of <Insert Town name>! Visitors from near and far! Meet Damon - the man who found the Dark Stone - the legendary treasure of our civilization!

Damon:
- Greetings to you, my brethren! I am humbled by your presence here today, and deeply honoured. This is a dream come true for our people - a chance of a lifetime granted to us by fate to restore our land to its former glory!
- Now, we will be holding a tournament in celebration of our discovery, and the winner will get the Dark Stone as a proof of their worth!

Mannes:
- Indeed! Now come and get signed up for the tournament!
- All of our foreign guests are welcome, too - as long as you are confident in your abilities as a Pokemon trainer, you are free to sign up!

Sub 040:
-Location: Christmas Event Town
-Trigger: Interact with either Mannes or Damon, who are standing next to each other
===
(Damon turns to Mannes)

Damon:
- What? You've invited the foreigners to participate?! I thought they were here just to watch!

Mannes:
- A worthy trainer can come from anywhere, Damon. This is an important matter for our nation. We cannot take any chances.

Damon:
- Exactly! It concerns our nation, so the trainer worthy of wielding the Stone must come from our rows! The Dark Stone is our national treasure, we cannot hand it to a foreigner!

Mannes:
- Damon, as much as I appreciate your devotion to our town and people, I must remind you that we are a small nation, and there is a possibility that none of us may turn out strong enough to control the powers of the Stone.
- If we broaden our scope, however, and give a chance to other people too, the worthy trainer will definitely turn up.

Damon:
- That's outrageous! The Stone belongs to our nation, so our people are more than capable of wielding it!

- Uh, I guess I cannot prove my truth to you with words alone. I will prove it to you by actions. I will participate in this tournament too, and make sure that no foreigner gets their hands on our treasure!

- I won't impede you further.
