

HOW KERRY'S OVERHAUL HAS MADE HER HOT PROPERTY

She's transformed even living and romance, and Kerry Katona feels 'em becomes OnlyFans' mo

It's been just over a year since Kerry Katona's third husband, George Kay, tragically died from a drugs overdose, aged just 39. And while the pair - who share daughter Dylan-Jorge, six - were estranged, Kerry admitted his death brought up so many bad memories and emotions that doctors prescribed her antidepressants, and she needed intense therapy after insisting she suffered partying would have put off our readers. They wouldn't have wanted to date someone with so much baggage. "But there's a whole generation of blokes who have grown up with Kerry - and now she's looking great and has a normal life, they have become interested. "She is also more attractive than her celeb competitors because she looks 'normal'. Most men don't want a woman who looks too plastic or fake - although Kerry's had work done, she's still got a natural-looking body." Explaining why she outshines other celebs - who are all younger and with a greater or similar social media following - Chris says, "The likes of Lauren, Megan and Danielle post a lot of semi-naked images on social media anyway, so there isn't as much intrigue as there is with Kerry, who mainly posts day-to-day, 'normal mum' pics on her Instagram account."

RE ATTRACTIVE PETITORS BECAUSE "NORMAL"

REAL And in a further boost for Kerry, Chris insists she'd have a bigger following than a Hollywood star as she is more "real". He says, "Men wouldn't be interested in seeing pics of Cwyneth Paltrow as they know they wouldn't bump into her in the pub. What they want is someone who looks like the pretty, down-to-earth girl from their local. The one they could ask out, and she'd say yes - Kerry represents that in the celebrity world. Men can believe they've got a chance of dating her." By Daisy McIure
