Celebrating Decades of Delicious

From humble beginnings to unforgettable flavors, these two female-founded faves have delighted taste buds for decades. Now they're coming together to make your holidays even sweeter.

Pampered Chef

In 1980, Doris Christopher wanted to support her family without missing the moments that mattered. When she couldn't find the right work, she created it! Forty-five years later, Pampered Chef still offers products that are made to last and meant to love.

See's Candies

Before she was a household name, Mary See was making candy in her black-and-white kitchen using recipes made with love (and lots of butter). In 1921, she and her son Charles turned those treats into something sweeter —a family business built to last.
