Infusion Providers Network offers small- to medium-sized home healthcare organizations providing recombinant or plasma-derived therapies the opportunity to aggregate negotiating power, giving them access to best-in-class prices. Our member base includes key leaders in the infusion marketplace who have banded together to take advantage of the pricing and clinical solutions we offer.

Who we are

Our members are providers of recombinant or plasma-derived therapies, serving hemophiliacs and others suffering from debilitating blood disorders. These therapies provide a literal life-line to patients whose bodies are unable, or become unable, to function independently. Infusion Providers Network helps ensure that these providers and patients have access to therapy at best-in-class prices.

Advocacy

While we provide solutions for our members, we can also help provide solutions for your patients. Infusion Providers Network will work on its members' behalf in the continued pursuit of ensuring access to quality, affordable patient care. Join us and be a part of a greater tomorrow for home healthcare infusion providers.

Contract negotiations

Reinforce your power to negotiate with manufacturers. By bringing together small- to medium-sized home healthcare organizations and aggregating negotiating power across the board, Infusion Providers Network is able to offer its membership best-in-class prices on products that are critical to your business.
