

Cervical Cancer Awareness Month

Avista Adventist Hospital

Published by Melissa Phillips [?] · January 4 ·

In honor of Cervical Cancer Awareness Month, Dr. Irina Dimitrova, a gynecologic oncologist at Avista, wants women to know that early on, cervical cancer may not cause signs and symptoms. You should also know, 93 percent of cervical cancers could be prevented by screening and getting the HPV vaccination. Read about ways you can reduce your risk of cervical cancer here: <http://bit.ly/AAHcervicalcancer>

Avista Adventist Hospital

Published by Melissa Phillips [?] · January 11 ·

Do something to help prevent cancer today. Cervical cancer is one of the most preventable types of cancers through simple screenings or vaccination. Learn the symptoms and get the inside facts about #CervicalCancer: <http://bit.ly/AAHcervicalcancer>

Avista Adventist Hospital

Published by Melissa Phillips [?] · January 17 ·

Do you have a preteen/teen? Did you know they should have their first gynecologic visit between the ages of 13 and 15 years? Have they received the HPV vaccine? Protect them from #CervicalCancer and other serious diseases by getting them vaccinated. Talk to your doctor about the HPV vaccine at your daughter's next appointment or to schedule an appointment with a gynecologist, visit <http://www.chpgwomenshealth.org>

Avista Adventist Hospital

Published by Melissa Phillips [?] · January 24 ·

Avista Adventist Hospital wants you to know Hispanic and Latina women have the highest rate of cervical cancer – the second most common form of cancer in women, but it can be prevented by getting an HPV vaccine, a pap smear when recommended and not smoking. Make an appointment today for your annual screening or to ask about the HPV vaccination. Please share this message with the women in your life. To learn more, visit <http://www.avistahospital.org/.../speci.../gynecologic-oncology/>

Cervical Cancer Awareness Month

Avista Adventist Hospital

Published by Melissa Phillips [?] · January 28 ·

You've vaccinated your kids against pertussis (whooping cough), measles or mumps so they can lead healthy and full lives. So why not vaccinate for the HPV virus to prevent cervical and other HPV-associated cancers? Talk to your doctor about the HPV vaccine at your child's next appointment. To schedule an appointment with one of our pediatric care providers, visit www.avistafamilymedicine.org

...

Avista Adventist Hospital

Published by Melissa Phillips [?] · January 29 ·

...

If you've been diagnosed cervical cancer, ask to be referred to a gynecologic oncologist—a doctor specializing in cancer of a woman's reproductive system. Meet Avista Adventist Hospital's champion, Dr. Irina Dimitrova. Dr. Dimitrova believes in guiding and supporting her patients through the myriad of challenges and changes they will face fighting cancer. To schedule an appointment: <http://bit.ly/DrDimitrova>

