

"British Columbia: No Better Place to Become a Naturopathic Doctor."

Acclaimed for its nature, BC is one of the best places to study naturopathic medicine. The province boasts year round activity including beautiful beaches in the summer and skiing in the winter. You don't need to travel far for picturesque hikes, trails, lakes and camping spots. BC's multi-modal transit system makes it simple to commute during class days and explore when you have free time. A diverse society and amicable people from different cultures provides an exciting place to live. There is simply no better place to become a naturopathic doctor.