THE FACE OF INTERIOR DESIGN

KIRKENDALL DESIGN

Interior design is more than just creating a beautiful space. It's a focus on creatively solving clients' issues and improving their livability — something the full-service firm has done for 28 years in homes and businesses.

While some tout walking into a home that feels like it's "out of a magazine," owner Julia Kirkendall says her goal is to create surroundings that are current and stylish, but also personal to those using the space. She and her team source products, furnishings and art from all over the country. This enables them to make each client's home reflect their personality, and how they live and enjoy their space.

When it comes to commercial design, the firm captures a company's essence and helps it make a unique first impression before ever saying a word. Kirkendall Design's experience, details, communication, productivity and creativity lead to lasting results.

From kitchens and bath updates to space planning, window treatments, art procurement, styling and paint consulting, clients love working with Kirkendall Design. The years of experience and professionalism allow their clients to be confident in an amazing finished home or business they will enjoy for years to come.
